CLARA HAMON FOUND AGAIN

EXTRA SESSION, HARDING HINTS TO SENATORS

Wants "Cleanup" to Prepare for It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—After addressing the senate to the opening of the Sixty-sixth congress, as the first sitting senator, Mr. Arthur S. HENNING, president of the senate, today announced the formulation of the policy of his administration in a series of addresses with senators and other public officials, and appeal for a spirit of work between executive and legislative branches that he thought would call an extra session in the winter.

Mr. Henning said that the doctrine of cooperation and good understanding between public officials, and appeal for a spirit of work between executive and legislative branches that he thought would call an extra session in the winter.

First Lady of Land Hostess to Successor

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—For the first time within the memory of the oldest attaché of the White House, a first lady of the land entertained today a next first lady of the land.

Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, wife of the president elect, was the guest of Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, wife of the president, at an informal tea for two at the executive mansion.

On her arrival in Washington, Mrs. Harding found awaiting her an invitation from Mrs. Wilson to take tea. She arrived at the White House at 5:30, accompanied on the drive from the residence of Edward McLean by a secret service man.

Mrs. Harding was met in the front hall of the executive mansion by Mrs. Wilson, who had returned only a few moments earlier with the president from their daily automobile ride through the park. Mrs. Wilson received Mrs. Harding alone, the president having gone at once to his room.

Mrs. Wilson escorted her guest into the blue room, where tea was served and where they chatted for a while. Then they walked about the White House through the green and red rooms and the state dining room, over which Mrs. Harding will be called upon to preside after next March 4.

See Predecessors' Portraits. They also visited the corridor where are hung the portraits of former first ladies of the White House, which were removed from the east room during the Roosevelt administration.

Mrs. Harding prepared to depart after being an hour with her hostess, and had progressed as far as the front doorway, when Mrs. Wilson, suddenly recalling details of the household organization which she had forgotten to impart, invited her back, and they withdrew again to the blue room, where they talked for another twenty minutes.

Upon leaving Mrs. Harding remarked that she had had "a very pleasant visit indeed," but she asked to be excused from answering any questions as to her visit.

Mrs. Harding wore a plain black silk dress with organdy collar and cuffs, and a black toque trimmed with Alice blue ostrich feathers. Mrs. Wilson also was in black.

See Opening of Senate. Mrs. Harding had a busy day in Washington. She went to the capitol in the morning and was in the gallery at the opening session of the senate.

She had lunch at the capitol restaurant with Mrs. McLean and Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer. Dr. Sawyer is Mr. Harding's family physician.

As Mr. Harding left the luncheon she met Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, and immediately, as old friends, they embraced.

After leaving the capitol and before going to the executive mansion she called on a number of friends in Washington.

Senator Harding did not call on the president today. The senator would be glad to call if invited; the president would be glad to receive him if he should call. If neither moves to break the ice tomorrow the incoming and outgoing presidents will not meet until the inauguration on March 4.

Supreme Court Affirms First "Dry" Conviction. Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—The first conviction under the law prohibiting sale to reach the supreme court was affirmed today when the court affirmed the sentence imposed in Maryland upon Louis Wunder, after he had been found guilty of selling distilled spirits for beverage purposes.

TWO GOLFERS MAKE TWENTY MILE COURSE IN TOTAL OF 608 SHOTS

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

[Copyright, 1920.]

LONDON, Dec. 6.—A cross-country golf match unique in the annals of the game in South Wales has just been completed, the players being D. Rupert Lewis and W. Raymond Thomas.

The course ran over twenty miles, from Radyr, near Cardiff, to Southern Down, on the Glamorgan coast. Doubt had been expressed whether it could be completed in less than 1,200 strokes. There were many wagers that at least 1,000 strokes would be necessary. Lewis and Thomas won handsomely, doing the course with alternate strokes in 608.

The distance was covered in sixteen hours, including intervals for refreshment. At one time the players had to wade knee deep in water to ford a river. At another they were chased by a bull.

Without further cogitation Mrs. Schuettler ran up the steps and into the house. Just as she came in somebody went out the back door. One look in the dismantled dining room told her the story. She wasted no time in screams, but ran out again and around, through a court, to the back yard.

See Thieves Flee in Auto. She succeeded in catching a glimpse of two men running up the alley toward Cornelia street. She ran after them calling for help. The burglars jumped into a closely curtained black automobile and sped away. Mrs. Schuettler arrived too late to obtain the license number.

Returning to her home, she found the robbers had taken $3,000 worth of jewelry, keepsakes, clothing, furs, silverware, and cut glass and were preparing to carry off more. But above all the rest, two of her most valued possessions were gone—two revolvers, prized by the late chief and treasured by her. One he had taken from one of the notorious car-burn bandits in the battle that first made him famous as a police officer. The other is a pearl-handled weapon engraved with his name and presented to the chief by admiring friends of the department.

Take $500 in Liberty Bonds. "I would give all the rest for those two revolvers," Mrs. Schuettler told the Town Hall police. "They are my keepsakes, my treasured mementoes of my brave husband."

Among the loot was $500 worth of Liberty bonds, a mink scarf belonging to Mrs. Schuettler, a fur coat, the property of her niece, Mrs. Frank White, who with her husband lives with Mrs. Schuettler, and shoes, stockings, a watch, and many trinkets valued for association.

The burglars had gained entrance by removing the glass from the rear storm door and then cutting the glass in the inner door and unhooking it. Cut-glass cabinets, silver chalice, dresser drawers, cupboards, and table drawers had been looted. Several bundles of clothing were left behind by the burglars.

SCHUETTLE'S WIDOW CHASES BURGLAR BAND

Thieves Get $3,000 Loot in Home.

When Mrs. Herman F. Schuettler, widow of the late chief of police, returned to her home at 3453 Bosworth avenue early yesterday morning she found the house brilliantly lighted.

"Something's wrong," she thought. "My niece and her husband are out. It is too early to expect them back. Furthermore, I left but one light burning. I'll give myself one guess—burglars."

Without further cogitation Mrs. Schuettler ran up the steps and into the house. Just as she came in somebody went out the back door. One look in the dismantled dining room told her the story. She wasted no time in screams, but ran out again and around, through a court, to the back yard.

Robbed Twice, He Invites Invaders to Third Visit. E. B. Mantz of 4160 Ellis avenue has sent the following letter to this Tribune:

"I desire to notify the robbers of 4160 Ellis avenue, apartment 21, who during the year have robbed me twice, that I have a few empty jars left, and if they desire them I will be glad to leave the door open so they can enter without breaking the locks."

SEAT OF LEARNING, SEAT OF TROUSERS, WHICH LOSES MOST?

Boston, Mass., Dec. 6.—A mother's letter complaining that her young son had worn out three pairs of pants in three months on chairs in the public schools was answered by Chairman Joseph P. Lonsane of the schoolhouse commission today with the statement that $44,100 had been spent this year to keep chairs and desks smooth. He said this boy's chair had been specially sandpapered at the request of his family, who said the youngster wore out pants easily. All things considered, the chairman said, the boy and not the chair must be held responsible.

valuable jewelry and silverware in a downtown vault.

Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes sent out several men to hunt for the robbers. Suspects were taken in during the night and searched for weapons in the belief that the thieves will not try to dispose of the Schuettler pistols but will keep them to boast of to fellow crooks.

The home of Charles R. Caster, at 1453 Cullum avenue, near the Schuettler home, was robbed of $1,200 worth of jewelry and furs a few days ago.

SIX NEW CASES OF SMALLPOX FOUND IN WEST SUBURBS. Six cases of smallpox were reported yesterday in Oak Park and River Forest. Four cases were found among students of the Oak Park High school, and Dr. Frank B. Ledham, Oak Park health commissioner, ordered the school closed. The building will not be opened until after every room has been fumigated. Eighteen hundred students will have to submit to vaccination or be excluded for a period of twenty days. Many of the students are reported to have refused to be vaccinated.

Chief of Police Charles Laatz announced that the River Forest authorities are taking every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease. Two women and three men physicians will resume examination of pupils at Senn High school today. Dr. H. O. Jones of the health department said the physicians examined one-half of the boys and one-third of the girls yesterday. The total registration is 2,600. "Three hundred more Senn students were excluded," Dr. Jones said. "All refused to be vaccinated."

Three Looted Mail Bags Found on South Side. Three bags, such as are used for registered mail, were found cut open late last night by a pedestrian at Union avenue and Forty-eighth street. The police suspect the sacks were taken by thieves in some of the recent mail robberies. The padlocks on the sacks were locked, but the contents had been taken out after holes had been cut in each bag.

BRITISH RAID BUNGLES MOVE FOR IRISH PEACE

Arrest Six Members of Dublin Council.

DUBLIN, Dec. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Auxiliary police raided the Dublin city hall today and arrested six members of the corporation.

The raid prevented the members of the corporation from discussing a motion on the program by Sir Andrew Beattie, which had been seconded by High Sheriff McWalter, calling for an Irish truce. When the raid was over Sir Andrew asked that the motion be taken up before adjournment, but this was refused.

The raid was executed in a most dramatic fashion by soldiers and auxiliaries, who quickly surrounded the city hall where the unsuspecting members of the corporation were sitting at their monthly meeting. The members were suddenly faced by officers, who demanded that the mace bearer bring them the roll of the members.

The officers then called the names of the men required, who proved to be Michael Staines, Sinn Fein member of parliament, and Councillors Lawless, Clark, Lador, Brennan, and Lynch.

Simultaneously there were a number of raids, searches, and arrests in other parts of the city.

TIME RIFE FOR PEACE. LONDON, Dec. 6.—Arthur Henderson, who returned from Ireland today after taking part in the investigations of the English labor commission, said that after surveying the entire situation he believed the present moment offered exceptional opportunity for a settlement. Men of every class were tired of the existing strife and unrest and were anxious for peace.

In the view of the labor leader, a definite effort should be made officially to arrange an armistice in violent and provocative acts both official and unofficial, and that a conference should be called representing both sides.

"If these suggestions are acted upon," continued Mr. Henderson, "I have reason to know that the full weight of the heads of the Catholic church and all organized labor in Ireland would combine to secure cessation of lawlessness during the negotiations."

DE VALERA PESSIMISTIC. New York, Dec. 6.—England must withdraw all British troops from Ireland and liberate all political prisoners as a preliminary to restore peace in Ireland, Eamon De Valera, "president of the Irish republic," declared yesterday in a statement relative to the message dispatched to Premier Lloyd George concerning the premier's initial steps leading to peace.

"The removal of the aggression, obviously is both the initial and also the final step—that is, as I have said, the whole essence of the trouble between the two countries," Mr. De Valera said he had not been in direct negotiations with Lloyd George in the interests of the restoration of peace in Ireland.

Arrests in England. LIVERPOOL, Dec. 6.—Sensational Sinn Fein documents, alleged to deal with the purchase of arms and munitions on a great scale, are reported to have been discovered during a raid at Seaford. During the raid two young and stylishly attired Irish girls were arrested.

Amend Home Rule Bill. LONDON, Dec. 6.—The government was again defeated in the house of lords tonight when an amendment to the home rule bill, offered by the Marquis of Salisbury, was carried by a vote of 51 to 50.

This amendment provided that neither the northern nor the southern parliaments should be established under the king's authority, and the protection of the rights and liberties of all persons in both northern and southern Ireland were fully assured, and that otherwise the appointed day for putting the act in force should be fixed by resolution of the imperial parliament.

Slow in Studies, "Frosh" at Chicago U. Can't Dance. Dances are forbidden the freshmen classes at the University of Chicago for the rest of the year. They are not up to standard in their studies, and had been beaten "cramping" for the exams, Dean Marion Talbot told William Eppel, class president, yesterday when Eppel asked permission for a little affair. Indignant co-eds will meet to discuss ways and means of inducing the dean to rescind his order.

4 INVADE FLAT; STEAL LETTERS OF MRS. HAMON

Bind Landlord, Who Had Documents.

Four unidentified men forced an entrance last night into the apartment building at 4901-09 Sheridan road, where the widow of the late Jake L. Hamon lives. The men seized a quantity of personal papers and seventy-five letters received for Mrs. Hamon during her absence at Ardmore, Okla., where her husband was mysteriously shot to death. The intruders took nothing else.

Charles Willis, landlord of the building, had the letters and papers in his apartment, which is at 4909. Mrs. Hamon's apartment is across the hall at 4901. Actions of the men indicated the seizure had been carefully planned.

Mr. Willis and his wife, Josephine, were alone in their apartment at 9:45 o'clock when their bell rang. He opened the door. The four men thrust themselves in, and two seized him, pinning him to the wall. He believes one of them may have been armed. Mrs. Willis screamed and she was warned to be silent.

Demand Mrs. Hamon's Letters. The other two men then said to her and Willis: "We want Mrs. Hamon's letters and papers. Where are they?" "I won't tell," Mr. and Mrs. Willis chorused.

The other two men began a systematic search of the six room apartment. Mr. Willis struggled to free himself from his captors, and his silk shirt was torn off. But they held him.

The two who were searching the apartment visited every room, ransacking bureau drawers and closets. The letters were finally found in a small cabinet in the reception room of the apartment.

Flashlight Search. "They didn't give me a chance and I suspected nothing anyway," Mr. Willis said later. "They flashed stars that looked like policemen's stars and I suspected nothing until they began strongarming me. I was so excited I cannot give a description of them."

"Three nights ago I observed two men lurking in the rear yard. Previously, my janitor had been approached by strangers, but had declined to talk with them. However, I find that a maid had been approached and had said that we were keeping Mrs. Hamon's mail in our apartment."

"Who do you think they are?" he asked. "I don't know. I would not be surprised, if they were persons in the employ of interests seeking to suppress all possible sources of publicity in the shooting of Jake Hamon."

CHICAGOAN HELD IN IRELAND BY BLACK AND TANS. Eamon Butler, 1624 Hollywood avenue, was informed by cable yesterday that his brother, James Vincent Butler, a former Chicago boy and American citizen, had been imprisoned by the Black and Tans at Belinamult, County Waterford, Ireland. The imprisonment has left Mr. Butler's aged mother, Mrs. Mary Butler, also a former Chicagoan, alone on a farm, without help.

James V. Butler. Eamon Butler last night cabled friends in France to investigate the arrest, and telegraphed Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby asking that his brother's rights as an American citizen be protected.

The man under arrest was born in Chicago in 1893. His father returned to Ireland in 1901, and in 1904 James and his mother followed. He was educated in Ireland, but returned to Chicago in 1915. He returned to his mother in 1918, after his father died.

Says Auto Was Stalled. Several miles out of the city the Smith woman's car is said to have stalled with two flat tires. Ross and his driver assisted her to repair the tires and they then proceeded to a ranch house, where she made the alleged confession to him.

It is asserted that the woman declared she killed Hamon for the sake of her son, "Jack."

He says he will deliver her to the authorities when County Attorney Brown of Ardmore assures him that she will be tried before a jury of women. The woman is said to have announced that she is willing to face any just judge or any jury of women.

Told "Story of Life." The woman is credited with telling of events of her life with Hamon ever since she was 17 years of age; how she was betrayed as his employee, with his tempting stories of a finer life.

Police here say they have been asked to detain Ross in the hope that he will deliver up the woman in the case. They are much inclined to believe she has crossed over into Mexico en route to Vera Cruz.

The police early this morning were asked to determine if the much sought woman is still in the Gunter hotel here. They made a search, but have thus far failed to locate her.

A "Clara Smith" was registered here last week, but the woman was seen at the time by a reporter for the Express and seemed to be only about 17 years old.

NEW REPORT SAYS SHE HAS SON BY HAMON

Flees San Antonio to Hide at Ranch.

BULLETIN. Ardmore, Okla., Dec. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—Upon receipt of reports in Ardmore early this morning that Penny M. Ross, a newspaper man of San Antonio, Tex., had interviewed Clara Barton Smith, alleged slayer of Jake L. Hamon, near San Antonio, last night, County Prosecutor Russell R. Brown of Carter county sent a telegram to the chief of police at San Antonio asking that Ross be held as a material witness and to await further word from Brown.

In the information given Mr. Brown, he stated, it was said Ross asserted that he had aided the woman in fixing a broken down car and then, being an acquaintance of ten years, obtained a confession from her.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 7, 3 a. m.—P. M. Ross, an employee of the San Antonio News, this morning said that he knows where to find Clara Barton Smith, wanted at Ardmore, Okla., in connection with the death of Jake L. Hamon, but that he will not disclose the information without a guarantee from County Attorney Russell Brown of Ardmore that the woman will be given a trial before a jury of twelve women. Ross said the woman is not in San Antonio.

In general the story related by Ross, the police learn, is similar to that told by E. W. Salts of Dallas, the chauffeur who drove the Smith woman from Dallas to Cisco.

Story Told by Ross. Ross, in his interviews with other newspaper men, asserted that on Saturday night in a local hotel he heard two men mention the name of Clara Barton Smith and remark that she was still in San Antonio. Then on Monday afternoon, while in a department store, he said he saw her and that she recognized each other immediately. Ross is said to have worked in Oklahoma for some time and it was there that he knew her by sight, he says.

Simultaneously with this development it has been reported that Clara Barton Smith Hamon left San Antonio on Saturday night a week ago for Laredo. At Laredo she is reported to have obtained a border passport into Mexico. She was said to be en route to South America via Vera Cruz. This is in conflict with the Ross report.

Ross says that after he recognized the woman in a department store here she fled in an automobile and he followed in his car. It is said that he offers the statement of the service driver to corroborate his interview with her.

Says Auto Was Stalled. Several miles out of the city the Smith woman's car is said to have stalled with two flat tires. Ross and his driver assisted her to repair the tires and they then proceeded to a ranch house, where she made the alleged confession to him.

that a special grand jury be called to begin an exhaustive investigation into the death of Jake L. Hamon, who died as a result of gunshot wounds said to have been inflicted by a pistol in the hands of Clara Smith.

Under the state law a grand jury can be called upon presentation to the district judge of a petition bearing the signature of fifteen or more taxpayers. The judge, however, decides on the necessity for calling the jury.

The police dragged set for days over all west Texas, was believed to be drawing around Clara Smith. A hundred clues were being traced down by as many officers. Scores of letters, many of them anonymous, received today by County Prosecutor Brown, carried as many more leads.

Family Goes to Texas.

Frank L. Ketch, business manager for the Hamon interests; Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, her son, Jake Jr., and her daughter, Olive Bell, left Ardmore today for Eastland, Tex., where extensive holdings of the Hamon fortune are located. They plan to return in two days, it is said.

Previous to Ketch's departure, Sheriff "Buck" Garrett demanded of him the clothes worn by Hamon when the shooting occurred, the gun used, and the bullet which caused death.

A suit of plum colored clothes, showing no bloodstains or bullet holes, was turned over to the sheriff, who relayed them to Mr. Brown. The underclothing and other garments worn by Hamon, which he declared had been burned.

Mr. Hamon was shot through the body according to the signed report of five Ardmore physicians, and the vest submitted did not have a hole through it.

Among the arrivals in Ardmore today was E. D. Richards, manager of the Dallas office of the Pinkerton Detective Agency. Mr. Richards was investigating Hamon's death for a number of insurance companies which carried huge risks on Hamon's life. These policies are said to total around $7,000,000.

Dr. Walter Hardy, head of the Hardy sanitarium and physician to Jake Hamon until his death, and Frank Adams, Ardmore lawyer and politician, were among those questioned today.

Dr. Hardy for the first time admitted the truth of the report circulated for days that Clara Smith had visited Hamon in the hospital the morning after the shooting.

"She stayed but a minute," Dr. Hardy said.

Clara Smith Made Will.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 6.—Clara Smith had a will drawn for her here on May 12, 1917, eleven days before a decree was entered at Weatherford, Tex., granting a divorce from her to Frank L. Hamon, nephew of Jake L. Hamon, according to a statement tonight by Bert S. Kimbrell, member of the legal firm that drew the will.

According to Mr. Kimbrell, the will, drawn in the name of "Clara B. Hamon," was mailed at the request of the testator to her sister, Miss Myrtle Smith, at Ringling, Okla. He said that as he recalled it, the document made the sister the sole beneficiary.

CITY HALL CLAN TAKES OVER BIG COUNTY OFFICES

Mayor Happy as He Reaps Fruit of Victory.

Surrounded by an abundance of flowers, hosts of admiring friends and well wishers, Robert E. Crowe was inaugurated as state's attorney yesterday. He was the central figure for a day filled with ceremonies inducting county officials and municipal court judges into office. Judge George F. Barrett was master of ceremonies at the state's attorney's office, and Mayor William Hale Thompson was the principal speaker there, as at several other ceremonies.

The inauguration of the state's attorney was held in Judge Barrett's courtroom in the criminal court building. Through crowded into every available inch of space.

It was a happy day for Mayor Thompson as he made the rounds of inaugurations, all the new officials being his political protégés. As he mounted the bench and clasped the hand of the man he had sponsored first for judge and then for state's attorney, a cheer went up.

Then the speech-making commenced. The early life history of Judge Crowe was commented upon by Judge Barrett. He touched lightly upon each step taken by the youthful prosecutor to attain his new position.

"I am glad to say to the people of this community that Chicago and Cook county will be made a safe place for honest people," Judge Barrett told them, "and a dangerous place for organized criminal bands."

Mayor Says They Must Make Good.

"The men installed into office today have received the confidence of the people," Mayor Thompson said. "They must now justify the confidence reposed in them and make good to the people. The clock of time will now begin to tick upon their records. I predict that each time the clock strikes it will hang up a new record of achievement by State's Attorney Crowe."

"I pledge him the aid of Chief of Police Charles C. Fitzmorris. I know that both will keep up the drive on the criminals 365 days each year. Judge Crowe and Chief Fitzmorris can keep their offices forever if they continue the drive. I wish them both success."

Judge Crowe's wife, his sister, brother, and father-in-law, Lawrence A. Cuneo, were at his side as he delivered his thanks for good wishes of his friends.

"Today I am taking charge of an office of great power and responsibility," Judge Crowe said. "I realize the duty that rests upon me and that the people expect me to use the power of that office wisely and justly. In order not to disappoint you I need your help, the help of the bar, bench, press, and all organizations wishing to see the law enforced."

Erickson and Miller Next.

From the state's attorney's office the cheer leaders and crowd went to the fluster bedecked office of Clerk of the Superior Court Samuel E. Erickson. Mr. Erickson was formerly an assignment clerk in the office. He announced the appointment of William Hayes, 5720 South Green street, as chief deputy, and George P. Bebbler, 540 Walden avenue, as chief clerk.

In the office of August Miller, re-elected as clerk of the Circuit court, Mayor Thompson predicted higher political honors for him.

Friends of Coroner Peter M. Hoffman and Recorder Joseph Haas had their desks banked with flowers. The procedure was much the same, except that congratulations to Mr. Haas came from a different political camp.

Chief Justice Oscar M. Morrison of the Circuit court presided at the inauguration of Judge Donald L. Morrill. There were addresses and felicitation by Attorneys Mitchell D. Follanabee, Frank Hamlin, and Charles L. Bartlett.

Judge Francis S. Wilson, like Judge Morrill, a Democrat, also took his place on the Circuit bench. The ceremonies were postponed until today, due to the death of Mrs. Wilson's mother of Youngstown, O. Judge John P. McGorty will preside.

The eleven Municipal court judges held open house in their respective courtrooms, several launching into the trial of cases, soon after short congratulatory talks. Judge S. H. Trude and Judge George B. Holmes were re-elected. Other judges inaugurated were J. W. Schulman, H. M. Walker, L. G. Jacobs, A. G. Adams, R. E. Gentel, J. A. Bugee, T. F. Ehler, W. R. Fetzer, and W. L. Morgan.

Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review, and Bert H. Suber, county surveyor, were greeted by many friends in their offices.

Political leaders were prominent in the assembly which greeted Francis P. Brady when he took over the office of clerk of the Appellate court. County Assessors Adam Wolf and William H. Weber, who were re-elected, will formally take office anew on Jan. 1, when their present terms expire.

HOYNE WARNS OF PITFALLS

Retiring to private life, MacLay Hoyne yesterday gave to his successor, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, a word of advice and a hint of what he may expect during the next four years. He wrote from a sick bed, where he is suffering from an attack of neuritis.

"The office of state's attorney has and will cost any incumbent much, unless he be dishonest and utterly callous, however courageous and staunch he may be, in ideals and beliefs destroyed or shattered," he wrote. "He must pay in health, in broken friendships, and severed political relationships."

Victim of Ingratitude.

"He must suffer from ingratitude, perhaps as keenly as did Julius Caesar and King Lear and from the realization that the dictionary definition of the word 'friendship' was not accepted by some to whom he looked for aid or guidance."

"He must endure calumny and misunderstanding. He must learn that a large portion of the community regards all politicians as corrupt and all officeholders as thieves."

"Men in whom I believed have urged me to terminate prosecutions against persons of influence, prominence, and wealth or not to commence them even when they knew that my compliance meant the ruin of my reputation."

"Easy Money" Schemes Lure.

"Attorneys and others having a 'friendly interest' in my welfare have shown me easy methods for 'shaking down' vulnerable wealthy corporations and individuals. Others pointed out many ways of making easy money out of the office."

"I return to private life with the confident knowledge that no one can truthfully attack my integrity in office. No matter what my personal defects and weaknesses may have been, despite my official defeats and failures, I can look my father and mother in the eyes and say, 'The name you gave me remains untarnished by the blot of any corrupt act of mine during my term of office.'"

EX-KAISER CAN GO TO GERMANY IF HE WANTS TO

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] GENEVA, Dec. 6.—The former German kaiser and crown prince can leave Holland and return to Germany any time they express the desire to do so, and former Emperor Charles can go back to Austria just as freely as Constantine will leave Switzerland for Greece, according to Giuseppe Motta, president of the Swiss confederation, who stated today that Switzerland would not hinder Constantine's departure.

Jonkheer R. Loudon, Holland's former minister of foreign affairs, stated this evening that whenever the Hohenzollerns wished to return to Germany they would be conveyed to the frontier at the point where they entered Holland and permitted to cross the border.

Jonkheer Loudon stated that there was no possibility that the former German kaiser ever would ask permission to return to Germany.

"He is satisfied to remain where he is. My government has promised the allies to guard him."

"Just as we declined to surrender the ex-kaiser to the allies, so would we decline to deliver him to Germany if the Berlin government asked us to turn him over to them."

"The Hohenzollerns sought asylum in Holland and they have a right to find a haven there, but if the former kaiser or crown prince asked for a permit to return to Germany we would convey them to the frontier at the point where they entered Holland."

WHAT AMERICAN OCCUPATION IS DOING FOR THE REPUBLIC OF HAITI

(Photographs from Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

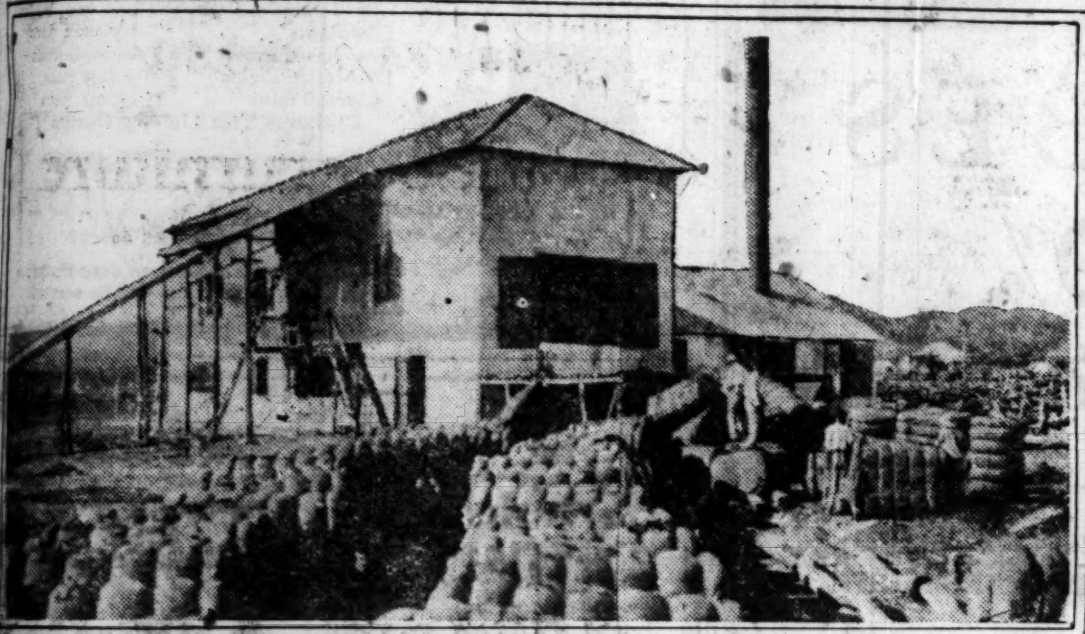

The Haitian market place is theater, social circle, gossip exchange, quarrel ground, movie and day nursery for more than a million Haitian women. If you met her ten miles out on the road leading to the market town, and offered her for her pitiful array of fruits and vegetables twice as much as she receives at the market, she would refuse your offer, telling you that it would leave her nothing to sell at the market. Then she would resume her long march towards, her basket poised on her head and her gait that of an Ethiopian princess. She is happy. She is on her way to her drama of the day and by nightfall she will have played in a dozen volcanic scenes that would have worn out Bernhardt in her prime. This picture shows the market place at Maissade in the back country.

A Haitian gendarme (American trained and by Americans commanded) bringing in Caco prisoners after a skirmish in the hills. Usually the bandit forces, armed sometimes with old French potmetal, outnumber our people six to one.

H. P. Davis, one of the American civilizers of the Haitian back country. He is general director and vice president of the United West Indies Corporation of Haiti, an American company which at the height of the season employs nearly 8,000 Haitians and has a pay roll running from forty to fifty-five thousand goudes a week. (A gouda is 20 cents.) Work and pay rolls are the cure of banditry and revolution in Haiti.

Modern cotton gin installed at an enormous expense in the Haitian back country by American capital. Is it going to pay? That depends solely on how efficient our administration of this distracted republic is. It is going to be when we really get down to business with the Haitians. Up to the present time we have only been feeling our way so far as the laying down of generally definite and constructive policies is concerned, and the intelligent Haitian is beginning to wonder when the actual rehabilitation will begin. He has been waiting five years.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6.

After a farewell address to the state at the opening of the session, President Harding conferred with public leaders on the formulation of foreign and domestic policies of his administration. He is said to incline to the selection of Senator Knox for secretary of state, George M. Reynolds for secretary of the navy, and former Senator Weeks for secretary of the treasury.

President Wilson is still undecided, according to White House officials, whether he would venture to the capitol tomorrow to deliver his message to congress or to send the message in writing.

The senate agriculture committee voted today to recommend to the senate the adoption of a resolution to provide means for the relief of the farmers from the present conditions.

A program for tax and tariff revision will be formulated by Republican members of the house ways and means committee tomorrow.

Estimates presented to congress by the treasury department for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1921, as submitted to congress today by the secretary of the treasury, reach a grand total of $4,653,856,759.

A fight on legislation prohibiting immigration for a period of two years has been organized. It will break in the house tomorrow.

Illinois will gain three new congressmen under a new apportionment submitted to the house by Representative Siegel of New York.

Ex-Kaiserin So Improved Children Leave for Home

DOORN, Holland, Dec. 6.—Augusta Victoria, the former German empress, who has been suffering for several weeks from heart attacks, is still in a serious condition, but is much improved that her children, who were summoned from Germany, are returning home. Prince Oscar and his wife left Sunday and Prince Adolph with his family left Monday.

William J. J. 116, 1452 West Superior street, was captured yesterday after having been caught in a bicycle store. He was arrested at 1105 Taylor street, and taken to the police station.

Following the brief conference the president and Mrs. Wilson went for a short drive.

WILSON, USING A CANE, RECEIVES CAPITOL CALLERS

Lodge Heads Body of Notification.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—President Wilson was still undecided tonight, according to White House officials, whether he would venture to the capitol tomorrow to deliver his message to congress or send the address to the senate and house in writing. He probably will not appear in person.

When the committees from the house and senate called on the president this afternoon to notify him that congress was ready to receive his message he might wish to communicate the president responded that he would have a message for presentation tomorrow. Members of the committees got different impressions from the president's words, however, regarding his intention.

Misunderstand His Plans.

Representative Mondell, Republican house leader, said he understood the president to say that he would send a message in writing. Senator Underwood and Representative Champ Clark said they did not understand Mr. Wilson to have said anything about how the message would be delivered, and it was their impression that he left the matter open.

At any rate there was no request made by Mr. Wilson for a joint session of the house and senate to hear him.

FOREIGN NEWS —IN BRIEF—

SHANGHAI.

Chinese press is alarmed over Japanese atrocities against Koreans in China and sees signs that another great land grab is under way.

TIEN-TSIN.—Representatives of the various famine relief associations adopted a plan for aiding the starving millions and ask all American and Canadian mission boards to conduct Christmas drives to supply much needed funds.

LONDON.—While all London is talking of a possible truce with Ireland, the peace treaty was defeated in the senate under Mr. Lodge's leadership.

Former Speaker Clark said the president walked into the room "brakely." He did not shake hands with his callers.

"In Very Good Spirits."

Senator Underwood described the president as being "in very good spirits," and as looking "very well."

Those present said the president carried his cane in his right hand and held his left hand against his chest. One said the executive's voice was "holer and low" and that they had difficulty in catching the few words he spoke.

Following the brief conference the president and Mrs. Wilson went for a short drive.

It was admitted at the White House but that could be arranged tomorrow on a few minutes' notice from the White House.

TREASURY ASKS $4,653,856,759 FOR NEXT YEAR

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Departmental estimates for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1921, as submitted to congress today by the secretary of the treasury, reach a grand total of $4,653,856,759.

This, while nearly $1,000,000,000 in excess of appropriations made for the same purposes during the current year, is less than the original estimates amounting to $4,865,410,031, submitted a year ago.

The first estimate a year ago was swelled to $5,944,250,733 by supplemental estimates, but congress cut it to $3,717,441,434. This latter sum did not include deficiency appropriations made during the year or the expenditures to the railroads under the guaranty provisions.

The largest sum asked by any department is $1,624,483,694 by the treasury department.

The treasury department also has asked an increase for the enforcement of the prohibition and narcotic laws from $5,500,000 to $7,500,000.

The estimates for the war department, totaling $933,271,567, while more than twice as great as the sum appropriated for the present year.

The navy department has asked for $695,763,767, as against current appropriations of $444,136,894. A year ago the department asked $580,674,130.

Included in the navy department estimates is an item of $750,000 for the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill. The appropriation for the current year was $515,000.

SOCIALIST PARTY READY TO JOIN RUSSIA SOVIETS

Resolutions adopted last night by the Socialist party's national committee declared the party is "heart and soul with the Russian revolution and the Russian soviet government" and in favor of affiliating with the Third International at Moscow. The resolutions point out, however, that the party has not accepted the terms made by the Third International when it asked the Socialist party to affiliate.

The resolutions declare the Socialist party, while desirous of affiliating with the Third International, must reserve the right to reserve its autonomy and identity in this country.

Mrs. Bertha Malloy, New York member of the resolutions committee, introduced the resolution denouncing the policy of Lloyd George in Ireland, and it was passed.

LONDON'S ARMY OF JOBLESS MEN IN SOLID FRONT

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Dec. 6.—Approximately 100,000 unemployed men from all over London have formed an organization for direct action in their own behalf rather than wait the fruition of government schemes for public work. This body has been taking over public buildings and arranging for the use of committee rooms and workshops.

Plan Cooperative Shop.

The plans of the leaders include the starting of cooperative workshops in which the men may work at their own trades where possible or at simple trades such as wood chopping, shoe repairing, or tailoring. They also plan to start a cooperative store where the wants of their families can be supplied at cost.

Efforts are also being made to discipline the men for controlling street parades and demonstrations so as to prevent collision with the police.

Plan No Disorders.

It is the intention of the organizers, when their plans are completed, to open negotiations with the police authorities for the management of their own parades, guaranteeing public order and thus avoiding such scenes as the incident riot on Downing street a few weeks ago. Their whole effort is to keep the unemployed out of the hands of the small group of revolutionaries who are trying to foment trouble.

JAP WARSHIPS SAIL TO VISIT CHILEAN PORTS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 6.—Two Japanese cruisers now cruising under the command of Admiral Funkakoshi will visit several Chilean ports in January, calling at Talcahuano, Valparaiso, and Antofagasta. Admiral Funkakoshi and his officers were entertained at a reception at the Chilean legation in Tokyo before their departure.

At Ceylon the admiral invited the Chilean consul and his wife to a dinner aboard the flagship. During the course of the meal he referred to the fact that the American fleet ten years ago was piloted through the Straits of Magellan by a Chilean expert naval pilot, and he stated he would appreciate it if the same attention was shown to his squadron. The admiral made the request to the Chilean foreign ministry. The cruise is a cadet training tour. The only other calls in South America will be in Brazil and Peru, where there are large Japanese colonies.

The squadron is due at Valparaiso on Jan. 15.

SCENES OF MASSACRES

1—Japanese troops are massacring Koreans not only in Korea but in China, where they have fled. Thousands of people are said to have been killed. The Japs say that they are in the district to suppress Chinese bandits who are molesting their nationals.

2—The Japs have set up civil courts at Hanchung, Fungping, and other places. They are reported to be trying to turn the whole Chinese district, together with the southern part of Manchuria, into a Japanese province. Jap colonists are pouring in, and Japan demands the right to establish settlements for them and to send in soldiers at her own pleasure. The shaded area on the map indicates the area in question.

D'Annunzio Is on Verge of Fiume 'Peace with Victory'

ROME, Dec. 6.—A dispatch to the Epoca from Fiume says an agreement with Gabriele d'Annunzio virtually has been concluded as a result of the visit of the special-commission sent to wait upon him last week by the chamber of deputies. The dispatch adds that the islands of Veglia and Arbe will be evacuated.

Japan's Premier Hopes for Early Agreement with U. S.
TOKYO, Dec. 6.—Takaishi Hara, the premier, in an address at Nagoya today, expressed the hope that the present negotiations between Japan and the United States would result favorably. He reiterated that Japan's policy is toward peaceful expansion.

CHINESE PAPER ALARMED OVER JAP AGGRESSION

BY J. B. POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
SHANGHAI, Dec. 6.—Japanese soldiers are committing their wholesale slayings of Koreans in the province of Kirin, Chinese territory, according to reliable information from the north. This territory was invaded some weeks ago when the Japanese alleged that Chinese bandits had killed their consulates and molested their citizens. China has been unsuccessfully attempting to have these troops removed.

The Japanese army of occupation is behaving in the same way as the righteous army whose terrible doings, at the time Korea was annexed, shocked the world," says the Peking-Tientsin Times.

"Whole villages have been wiped out and hundreds, if not thousands, of people brutally killed, their bodies being disposed of in such a manner as to indicate a deliberate intention to outrage the sentiments of the Korean people."

"In addition the Japanese are taking action to turn this territory, which is a connecting link between Korea and Siberia, into a Japanese province. According to reliable reports, Japanese civil courts have been established in the Hunchun, Fungping, and Huangho vicinities. Japanese police are everywhere, apparently not to preserve order, but to interfere with Chinese policy and to terrorize the Koreans."

"The Japanese government is now demanding the right to establish special settlements in China for her subjects."

THE FLU-Guard Against it!

Constantly Breathe Clean, Wholesome Fresh Air—The Prairie Ventilator Makes it Possible

During the epidemic, in October, 1918, in urging the people to take every possible precaution to prevent the flu, Dr. John Dill Robertson, Chicago Public Health Commissioner, closes his bulletin "For Your Health's Sake," with:

"And finally, don't forget the importance of having plenty of fresh air all the time, whether at work or play, asleep or awake."

You can't live out of doors, but you can let the out-of-doors in. You can have bracing invigorating outdoor air without admitting the blasts of winter or the sudden splashing thunder shower. The thing to do is to install the

See This New Smoke Consumer

FISCHER FURNITURE CO.
406 N. May St., Chicago

Federal Sales Corp., Chicago. Attention of Mr. Stevens

Gentlemen: Will you permit me to testify to the efficiency of your Federal Hydro Smoke Consumer. It's installed one in our furnace over two years ago and have proved its efficacy with many different kinds of steam coal, always with the same result—the complete suppression of all smoke.

By careful computation we find that this device has reduced our fuel consumption and expense by 15 per cent. Your device saved us cost for us in five months.

I may add that I have observed the results obtained from your smoke consumer with great interest for the reason that I am myself a licensed engineer, and have had considerable experience with inefficient smoke consumers before trying yours.

Any owner of a power plant who is sustaining constant losses and damage to property from smoking chimneys or who is willing to do his share in making his community a cleaner and healthier place in which to live and work should certainly investigate your device.

Yours very truly,
F. P. FISCHER, President.

Come any day this week to the above plant, 406 N. May St., and see the Federal Hydro Smoke Consumer in actual service. Ask for our representative, Mr. Stevens. Let the neighbors tell you that no smoke ever comes from the Fischer factory chimney.

The FEDERAL is backed by a positive guarantee and is sold at low cost. Don't fail to investigate.

BROGUE IGNORES YOUR DEMANDS OF ARGENTINA

Argentine Amendment Is Also Sidetracked.

By HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Foreign News Service.)

Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Murphy MacSwiney, widow of the late lord mayor of Cork, was the luncheon

guest of the staff of a New York publication today, went shopping and sightseeing, and then took up with her lawyers the preparation of her testimony for the "commission" inquiring into the Irish situation.

Tomorrow morning she will call on

Archbishop Hayes. Later she will have luncheon with 'Eamonn De Valera,

"president of the Irish republic," and then take a train at 3:30 o'clock for Washington.

Mrs. MacSwiney was asked whether if the demand for absolute freedom of Ireland were granted, India and other alien races ruled by Great Britain would not demand the same freedom and attempt to dismember the British empire.

"Well, why shouldn't they? What right has England to have any of them? Why should she have any other countries?"

10% Bonus to Employees

The Stony Island Trust and Savings bank, 4522 Stony Island avenue, has announced a 10 per cent Christmas bonus for all employees. Fourteen employees will benefit.

Why Not Set New Record?

We're hoping there will be more

Good Fellows enlisted this year than ever before, even if the weather man isn't giving us ideal Christmas weather.

Are you waiting for snow, sleet, cold and freezing winds to stir you up to do your Good Fellow giving?

Cold weather really has nothing to do with our work, except it makes it a little harder for us to get around, and serves to accentuate the grave

needs of the families we are going out to help.

Come on! Good Fellows! Let's get together!

Girls Start Work Early.

The girls of the Fellowship club in the Greenebaum bank did not wait for cold weather to do their Good Fellow visiting. They went out yesterday to one of their Good Fellow families and found a mighty good place to spread

Christmas cheer. A poor young widow with three young children, all under 5 years old, trying to keep them happy and fed and clothed on the small income she derives from painting Christmas cards—probably some that you will send to your friends wishing them a Merry Christmas. Funny world, isn't it?

The father died several months ago, leaving only a small amount of life insurance money, which was used to pay debts.

Others Just as Needy.

There are more families like this for you, Mr. Good Fellow. Some one said:

together!

That good old song was true of college days, but you Good Fellows do not seem to be getting together in the fair weather we are enjoying nowadays. Come on! Good Fellows! Let's get together!

Statistics show many more Good Fellow requests, more families' names given to Good Fellows, more children provided for at this time last year than during the first week of the Good Fellow campaign this year. What's the matter! What's the matter! What's the matter!

They went out yesterday to one of their Good Fellow families and found a mighty good place to spread Christmas cheer.

A poor young widow with three young children, all under 5 years old, trying to keep them happy and fed and clothed on the small income she derives from painting Christmas cards—probably some that you will send to your friends wishing them a Merry Christmas. Funny world, isn't it?

The father died several months ago, leaving only a small amount of life insurance money, which was used to pay debts.

MAKE WAR BONDS PAR BY REFUNDS, ARMOUR URGES

Long Term Securities Are Proposed.

(Copyright: 1920: By the United Press.)
A plan to bring Liberty bonds back to par was suggested last night by J. Ogden Armour in an interview outlining his views of the problems confronting the new administration at Washington.

Mr. Armour urged the refunding of war obligations maturing in the next few years by the issuance of long term bonds bearing a commensurate rate of interest.

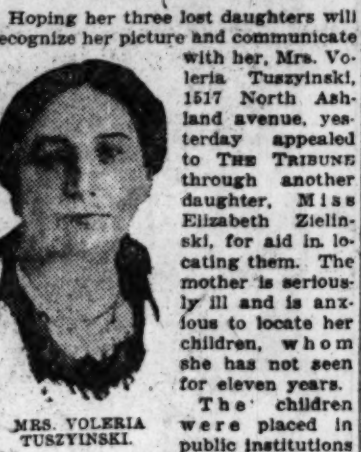

"Business is the greatest factor in the prosperity of a nation," Mr. Armour said, "and business is being taxed to death on the theory that the present generation should pay the cost of the late war. I do not regard that as fair or proper."

Let Future Generations Help.
"The people who shed their blood in a hard fought but glorious victory, and who now are hard pressed economically by the results of the world cataclysm must not be saddled with the war debt. It is best that future generations—for whom the war was fought as well as for ourselves—should carry some of the burden," he said. "That they will realize what the men of this day and age did for them."

"The hundreds of millions of obligations coming due in the next few years should be refunded with long term bonds bearing a commensurate rate of interest. An immediate effect would be the restoration of Liberty bonds to their par value."

It is a crying shame that the millions of patriots who bought Liberty bonds should suffer the losses occasioned by their present status. With

MOTHER, SICK, SEEKS 3 GIRLS LOST 11 YEARS

MRS. VOLERIA
TUSZYŃSKI

Hoping her three lost daughters will recognize her picture and communicate with her, Mrs. Voleria Tuszyński, 1517 North Ashland avenue, yesterday appealed to The Tribune through another daughter, Miss Elizabeth Zieliński, for aid in locating them. The mother is seriously ill and is anxious to locate her children, whom she has not seen for eleven years.

The children were placed in public institutions by the juvenile court eleven years ago, following the death of their father. It is thought they later were adopted by various families, but there are no records showing what became of them. They are Cecelia and Agnes Zieliński, 14 years old twins, and Victoria Zieliński, 17 years old.

Three years ago Mrs. Tuszyński located another daughter, Rose Zieliński, through The Tribune, and believes that some reader may be able to give her some information regarding the other girls.

Immediate obligations spread over a long term of years, it would be possible to lessen the burden resting on the people. The part that heavy taxes now play in the making of living costs high is hardly realized."

Due to Government Competition.

Mr. Armour declared the present credit stringency was caused by the government's competition with industry in the money market.

He urged a careful revision of tax legislation, and particularly criticized any revenue measure imposing a direct tax on gross sales. Such a tax, he said, would put large industries, such as the packers, which do business on a narrow margin of profit, out of business. "It is highly important that Europe be got back to work," Mr. Armour said, "but before we can be of service to the rest of the world we must get our internal affairs in better order than they are in now. We need a comprehensive program for returning to a peacetime basis. But the new administration must not kill the goose that lays the golden eggs—business."

Must End Bureaucracy.
An end of bureaucracy also was urged by Mr. Armour.

"The government became largely bureaucratic during the war," he said. "It has demonstrated its inefficiency in time of peace. Bureaucracy makes business halting possible, and what business needs is freedom from harassment and uncertainty. The test of any proposed law should be, 'Will it make business better able to serve the public? Does it hold something constructive which promises real benefit?'"

The Kenyon-Anderson bills now pending before congress were branded by Mr. Armour as "founded on suspicion and sophistries—obstacles to progress."

N. Y. OPPONENTS OF LAKES CANAL IGNORE HEARING

New York, Dec. 6.—The joint high commission of the United States and Canada, considering the project of enlarging the St. Lawrence river waterways, met here today to hear opponents of the plan, but none appeared.

As a result letters commending the proposal were read from financial leaders throughout the country. The commission then adjourned sine die after its thirty-ninth hearing.

The hearing had been arranged at the request of State Senators Gibbs and Hill and Dock Commissioner Murray Hulbert of this city. It was said that six weeks' notice had been given opponents of the plan in order that they might appear today.

DRY AGENTS RAID 5 PLACES; SEIZE STILL AND BOOZE

Raids on three saloons, an amusement center, and a private home by dry agents yesterday yielded one 100 gallon still, 1,600 pounds of corn sugar, and two truck loads of whiskey, wine, and beer. Warrants were also issued for the arrest of three men.

The first raid was made on the Lincoln Turner hall at Diversey avenue and North Halsted street. Nothing was found in the gymnasium, but several gallons of wine and beer were seized in the social amusement room. The saloons raided were located on Armour and Austin avenues. Other raids in that district are scheduled for today and tomorrow. The still was found in operation in the home of Charles Gargus, 6057 South State street.

A woman's plea that her husband drank up all his wages instead of supporting her and their six children led to a raid on the saloon of Mike Farniewicz, 742 Bunker street. Five men were taken into custody and twelve gallons of whiskey seized.

NEW POINT IN TRIANGLE.

Sentimentalism as a byproduct of crime is not confined to Chicago. There is small comfort in that, but we can forget our local distress for a moment in contemplation of the case of Miss Grace Lusk in Wisconsin with its evidence that others are as soft hearted and soft headed as ourselves.

Miss Lusk is serving a sentence of twenty-one years for killing the wife of her paramour. The community is now at work to release her. The Waukesha county public has forgotten or forgiven her error of judgment in the choice of a victim. Had she killed the man in the case, according to well established precedent, she probably would have been set free immediately.

She had set the stage effectively and played out the act according to the accepted rules by firing two bullets into her own body. She did not provide the standard diary, but she had letters which served as well. The suicide attempt was perfect. It brought her into court white and shaken in a way likely to have the best possible effect upon a jury. The shooting left her victim dead, but it left her with life and excellent prospects of liberty.

That is standard practice. In San Francisco it has been noted for many years that persons contemplating suicide find it easy to jump from the rear end of a ferryboat into the bay. Most of them are rescued. One has never been known to jump from the front end of a ferryboat.

Miss Lusk's only variation from standard practice has kept her in prison for two years. That was indeed an error, but she may be reconciled by the thought that perhaps after all she is a pioneer in a new method of eliminating the irritating point of the triangle. Why should the man be the only possible victim? Why not occasionally, as Miss Lusk did, kill the woman? It is usually the extra woman, the wife, who stands in the way.

If such a precedent is established by the release of Miss Lusk the triangle business should flourish much better than under the established practice of the free killing of the man in the case.

MAKING VIRTUE ODIOS.

The ministers who stopped the boxing exhibition which Spanish war veterans wanted to give in the Seventh regiment armory Saturday night were within the law. It is provided that no state armory shall be leased for purposes prohibited by law, and boxing matches are prohibited. Nevertheless the protest in which they were successful was another act in the series which is making virtue odious.

What the war veterans wanted to have was a decent exhibition of boxing which would have attracted a decent crowd of men. It was illegal, but it was the only exhibition to draw the reformers' fire, and that is the point against them. The fighting at Great Lakes is probably illegal. It certainly is contrary to the spirit of our liberal laws. The use of Jack Dempsey and other fighters during the war to boost various war enterprises was contrary to the spirit if not the letter of the law. It is the inconsistency of reformers which carries them far in their work of making virtue odious, and we believe that if they persist in it they will bring about the general reevaluation.

Of all the exhibitions illegally held in the state the reformers had to select for their activity the one which the soldiers wanted. They are taught to fight with bayonets, but they may not see the men box with gloves.

ARMENIA WILL GET US YET.

President Wilson has replied to Paul Hymans, president of the council of the league of nations, that he will accept the request to mediate in the affairs of Armenia in an endeavor to end the horrors of attacks by the Turks and Kurds and will designate some one to undertake the work.

This is, we believe, another phase of the accord of Mr. Wilson and the principal European governments in an endeavor to involve the United States in Asia Minor against its will. It has the advantage of approaching the United States in a fashion which may appeal to a moral sense of international obligation and which may not threaten to get the nation into an entanglement.

A request that a government offer its good offices to bring about an understanding is seldom refused if there is any possibility of getting the results desired, but Armenia does not need the efforts of the United States. It needs merely some honesty of purpose and effort on the part of the nations which are dividing up the rich lands of the Turks in Asia Minor.

Great Britain and France have been able to tell the most powerful member of the quadruple alliance, Germany, precisely what must be done under the treaty and they have been able to enforce obedience. They have forced the giving up of pistols and guns held by German citizens. They have forced the surrender or destruction of the fleet and of war machines. They have policed elections in territory which had been German. They have been fully competent to obtain from Germany what they want Germany to give.

With the weakest members of the hostile alliance they have been futile, helpless and hand tied or have pretended to be. They are in virtual possession of the Turkish capital. They have taken Mesopotamia, Syria, Anatolia, Thrace, and other provinces. They are able to handle their former allies, the now rebellious Arabs. They have divided Asia Minor up into four parts and have distributed parts to Italy and Greece.

Armenia they will not have. They will not control the Turks there and it is the only part of the Turkish empire to which they will devote no attention. It is the only part in which they say they are helpless. They can reach agreements regarding every other part, but not that.

They can coerce the Turks everywhere else but not there. There they want the United States to intervene, inconsiderate of the fact that the United States is at the other end of the world, while they have their forces close by. They have a leverage on the Turks. We have none.

Of all the absurdities of Europe under the peace treaty none equals this Armenian proposal which is incessantly thrown at the United States. The American people have said, through the senate and in an election, that they will not do it. Now, in spite of every refusal we find that the camel has inserted his nose within the tent. With that warm we'll soon see the rest of him.

LET'S TRY THE ANTI-PARKING PLAN.

The anti-parking ordinance, designed to relieve the growing congestion in the loop, commands the consideration of the city council and of the public on its merits, without regard to politics or the interests of a minority of the city's residents come into daily contact with the loop, but the loop is nevertheless the heart of the city, and to just the extent that traffic through it is delayed is the activity of the city reduced. Loop traffic congestion is felt at every railroad station and at every crowded corner in Chicago. It wastes time and money, impedes the entire business and growth of the city, and in the aggregate costs millions of dollars a year.

These factors rather than the profit or loss of any individual or business concern should be taken into consideration by the council. The pressing need is to improve conditions for the whole city, not for the 2,500 business men who find it convenient to park their cars in the loop, or the business houses immediately affected. It has been estimated recently that traffic through the loop district is slowed down to an average speed of two miles an hour. This condition is a recent development. Loop traffic has increased 20 per cent a year each year since 1915. It is obvious that such growth cannot continue. It would mean eventually that traffic would be completely blocked. It had better be coped with now than later.

Certain concerns, such as taxicab companies, would benefit by the ordinance. That is hardly sufficient reason for defeating it. Taxicabs are necessary to a modern city. In Chicago they relieve surface lines and "L's" of some 100,000 passengers a day. Aldermen who oppose the ordinance on such grounds will be conferring no favor on their constituents. On the contrary, they will be conferring a favor by speeding up street cars in the loop from two miles an hour to six or eight.

Business houses which fear loss of trade or individuals who object to personal inconvenience naturally oppose the project. Their arguments can be listened to and weighed, but their selfish appeals must be put aside. With improved traffic conditions motor users could save enough time to walk the few blocks necessary after parking their cars and would not be interfering with the progress of thousands of their fellow citizens.

The ordinance may be imperfect, but it is the best offered. It is not irrevocable. It will provide a breathing time in which something better, including adequate parking or garage provisions, one way streets, etc., can be worked out. Let us try it. It is no matter for attempted "shakedowns" or individual profit or loss, but one for the general welfare of Chicago.

THE SKOKIE PRESERVE.

Which is to have the greater influence upon the decision of the county board and its real estate committee, the interest of the public, present and future, in the preservation of outlying parks and public pleasure grounds, or the interest of a few property holders in their own pocketbooks?

The question, we trust, answers itself. President Reinberg and the board have shown an intelligent and far sighted interest in the development of the forest preserves or outer park system, and the wisdom of bringing the Skokie tract in is too clear to escape them. It is more accessible than most of the preserves, for it can be reached by those who have no automobile by the North Shore Electric line and two railroads, and for motorists it lies in the direction of the most attractive tourist regions, the lake and hill district of northern Illinois and Wisconsin.

The interest represented by the landholders fighting the Skokie preserve project would have cheated Chicago of all her parks. But the citizens who established Lincoln and the south and west parks did not let self-interest or penny wisdom prevail. They created the great parks within the city as we are creating the great forest preserve system, looking to the larger interests of the public, of present as well as future generations, investing for the health and happiness of generations of tired men and women and of children demanding their birthright of play in the open.

As for the value to the whole city of the preserve, it is not merely measured in sentiment. It may be measured in dollars. If Chicago does not develop its resources of pleasure, if it does not make itself and its environs attractive, it will cheat itself of the wealth that comes to all cities which are great centers. Chicago does too little in this way, not too much.

UPON COURTESY.

[New York News.]

The Daily News "stunt" to interest the people of our city in being courteous to each other is proving a great success.

It has already got into the language of the town. A rudeness brings forth the comment, "That may cost you $25." Of course all true acts of courtesy cannot be rewarded. We hope only by this spectacular manner to call attention to the matter of general good manners.

We propose to change the $25 prize for each day's most courteous act to $50, and we propose to give to the kindly folks who have already won $25 for being charming another $25 in order to put them on an equality with those who are to win the prize hereafter.

The point we want to make is this: Courtesy pays not only in the radiance it gives to the soul but in the joy it brings to the souls of others. A courteous city is a happy city, far more worth while living in than an impolite one, no matter how rich and gorgeous and energetic the bad mannered town may be.

Courtesy is beautiful. Impoliteness is ugly. The golden rule is the best rule that the human race has ever discovered. We are all imperfect, so we cannot live up to the golden rule all the time, but we can at least try more than we have been trying to keep it in mind.

FREEDOM shrieked when Venizelos fell. But Freedom has grown old and hysterical, and shrieks on very little occasion.

THE Greek drachma is reported to be in a bad way. Perhaps a Drachma League could uplift it and tide it over the crisis.

Economic Distress in Ireland.

Sir: A correspondent commenting on the present economic conditions in Ireland writes: "I am sending you a list of prices of what the bare necessities of life cost in Dublin at present." Turning to the list I find it starts out as follows:

Present Price. Pre-War Price.

Whisky—1 sh. 8d per glass. 4d per glass.

Stout—4d per bottle. 2d per bottle.

BALLYBUNNION.

ONE learns from so disinterested a source as the Herald-Examiner that Bernard Shaw predicts "inevitable war between England and the United States." We understood the old boy had not been well since the war, but we did not know that his mind was quite gone.

"WHY DRAG IN VELASQUEZ?"

[From the South Haven Tribune.] "Cartoons and Caricatures" was the subject of Mrs. E. E. Main's paper. She told us particularly of Bud Fisher, the originator of "Mutt and Jeff," and how seriously he takes his "art," and also of the immense fortune he has accumulated through these characters who are so real to him and so funny and crude to others. She also mentioned John T. McCutcheon and Briggs.

THE attitude of the Greeks toward "that fine demagogue Venizelos" reminds our learned contemporary the Journal of the explanation given by the ancient Athenian who voted against Aristides; he was tired of hearing him call "the Just." It is an entirely human sentiment, one of the few that justify the term "human race." It swept away Woodrow the Idealist, and all the other issues that the parties set up. If it were not for the saturation point, the race would be in danger of becoming inhuman.

A Classical Who's Who.

Sir: It is most humiliating that the whole line following should have needed instruction concerning Socrates, Epictetus and Cato. I think you should begin a series of educational articles under the title "Who's Who in Classical Lore." Since they are more easily remembered than prose, they might take the form of verses or memorabilia, something like this:

What human tumblebug of old

A stone uphill unceasing rolled?

Alas, 'twas old man Sisyphus!

I'll say he was a busy cuss.

CALCITROUS.

IT appears to be the general opinion that Mr. Harding will be a pleasant surprise as President. This should be a pleasant surprise to Mr. Harding.

NO END COZY.

[Notice to members of a Colonial country club.] The restoration of the clock succeeding the fire has made the south upstairs dining room very attractive and together with the directors' room on the east front may be considered as very desirable for private parties. Three of the bedrooms may be vacant in December and may be rented by the members at a moderate price.

SEN. JOHNSON is reported to be still bitter against the League. Perhaps his bitterness is accentuated by the suspicion that nobody cares a damn what he thinks about it.

The Suspense Was Terrible.

Sir: It was in 1911 that I made my second and last attempt to make the Line. I have been as constant a reader, probably, as any of them. Can anyone in the audience make that record? Have I been idle these years? Listen!

WE quite understand that if Mr. Molesworth is to establish himself with the public he must play old stuff, even such dreadful things as the Mozart-Liszt "Don Giovanni." It is with Chopin values and Liszt ragodolies that a pianist plays an audience into a hall, but he should put on some stuff to play the audience out with. Under this arrangement those of us who have heard Chopin's Fantasia as often as we can endure may come late, while those who do not "understand" Debussy, Albeniz, and other moderns may leave early. The old stuff is just as good to-day as it was twenty years ago, but some of us ancients have got past that stage of musical development.

T. B. YARDSTICK FOR CITIES.

At the end of the three years' study Dr. D. B. Armstrong reported that the death rate from consumption in Framingham, Massachusetts, had declined about one-third.

In 1911, at the start, while at the end of three years it was 81. Eighty-one deaths from consumption per 100,000 living is a very low death rate. About twenty-five years ago Chicago had a typhoid death rate twice that high, and now the rate has been around 1 for several years. Is it too much to hope for that twenty-five years from now Framingham may have a consumption rate in the neighborhood of 1?

Armstrong reports that his physicians are finding less consumption now, and especially less neglected consumption. This leads him to hope that the decrease in consumption will continue.

While the experiment was founded upon a suggestion which Heiser brought from Victoria, Australia, that consumption might be brought under control in a few years, and while this promise is not yet all its fullness, there has been great progress. The lessons learned at Framingham suggest to Dr. Armstrong a Framingham yardstick with which other communities may measure themselves. Here are some of the features of that yardstick as applied to a city of 100,000 population:

How many cases of consumption are there? In Framingham 1 per cent of the population has active tuberculosis—any city of 100,000—1,000 cases.

How many cases should be under care? In Framingham for every death there should be nine to ten cases under care. In a city of 100,000 population with a tuberculosis death rate of 100 per annum there should be 900 to 1,000 cases under the care of physicians either at home or in institutions such as hospitals and sanatoria.

What are the minimum needs for beds in sanatoria and hospitals? In Framingham one to two beds for each death per year. In a community of 100,000 population with 100 deaths from consumption a year there should be 100 to 200 beds for consumption.

What proportion of cases of consumption should be given hospital or sanatorium care? In Framingham about 33 1/3 per cent. In a city of 100,000 about 333 cases.

What amount of visiting nurse service is required? One nurse for each 2,000 to 3,000 people.

What will be the cost of all health work on a comprehensive plan, including tuberculosis work? In Framingham over 12 per cent. In a city of 100,000 about $200,000 a year.

What results can be expected? In Framingham a reduction of one-third in the tuberculosis death rate was achieved in three years. A community of 100,000 should lower its general death rate as well as its tuberculosis rate.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—On Oct. 1 I paid a deposit on a second hand kitchen heater then in use in a home. It was to be cleaned up and delivered to me in two weeks. Instead they used it seven weeks. They did not clean it at all, and then when I refused to accept it they kept the heater.

I had a new one and now a very old, dilapidated one is in its place. Can this condition be remedied? Mrs. L. H.

An investigation was made by an inspector from the department, as a result of which a notice was served on the agent, M. P. Williamson, to repair broken plaster on ceiling second floor. Remove obstruction in sink waste pipe second floor rear Abellish and remove broken garbage can in hallway second floor rear. Replace with a new garbage receptacle.

BOY UNDER BOND.

Galesburg, Ill., Dec. 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is it legal to put a boy of 17 years of age, under bond?

1. Can this boy be held in jail to pay a debt?

2. Is the county judge responsible for a boy of this age on first offense? How can one get a boy out of jail who is being held there to pay a debt? W. M.

1. Yes, to be released from confinement.

2. Depends on what the debt is.

3. The judge is required to administer the law to the best of his ability. He is so sworn to do.

If you feel that he is illegally confined, you should retain a lawyer to assist you. Without full facts in such a case, an opinion is hardly justified.

"HAVE WE FORGOTT?"

Chicago, Nov. 25.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—Your editorial, "Have We Forgotten?" in today's Tribune is the first indication I have seen that there is even a thought being had for those who did all they could for their country and for those who stood on the sidewalks and were so vigorous in yelling "Hooryay" when we came back and then forgot all about us.

"Have You Forgotten?" Yes, I'll tell you and prove to you that you forgot, and the (mis)government forgot, and so did all the others forgot, with the exception of the Salvation Army and the Red Cross. But we have not "forgotten" and the memory of all the dirty deals and the rotten treatment that we went through while in the army, especially overseas, where we were impounded slaves, was made all the more bitter by the fact that when we came back we did not get even a fighting chance.

It was about sixteen months ago that I wrote a letter to you asking why was it that those very same employers who while the war was going on were so steadfast in advertising that only men exempt from army service would be given employment completely failed to show that they appreciated the service rendered by the man in

The DUO-ART Reproducing Piano

At Orchestra Hall

A RUSTLING murmur sweeps through the great hall and subsides. A few late comers slip into seats as the orchestra studies its notes. Harold Bauer appears, bows, seats himself at the gleaming piano. The baton lifts—falls. The first movement of the Concerto begins. The piano flashes brilliantly into melody, taken up by the wood-winds. Richly the two sing. The mood changes and the piano continues alone, gravely, softly. Over and over it plays the haunting passage. Again the orchestra joins its voice. Gradually a broader theme enters and the music swells, up, up. A hush. A single note, as of a crystal raindrop in a silver bowl. This is yours with the DUO-ART Reproducing Piano.

At the Illinois

THE CURTAINS drift up. An old-fashioned garden shows quaintly in the late afternoon sun. Bending over the blossoms she herself seems but a more gorgeous one. The shadows deepen and she turns sadly, singing. Sweetly the song fills the silent theatre. The poignancy of it enters the listeners. Heads bow and fingers tighten. Of gossamer delicacy and grace the refrain recurs, colorful and movingly beautiful. The swaying figure droops. A tear glistens. An inaudible sigh is felt. A heavy languor communicates itself to the audience. The song breaks; dies. A pause and a roar of applause breaks upon the surrounding walls. This too is yours through the DUO-ART Reproducing Piano.

These Are Yours

THE DUO-ART Reproducing Piano brings to you the most stirring, the happiest music known. When Bauer, Rachmaninoff, and other masters play in recitals at Orchestra Hall you may attend through the offices of your DUO-ART Piano. Then the merriment of the cabarets, the scintillating, pulsating dance music also are played as never before. And as for the popular classics, they are given new lustre when played for you by this epitome of the orchestra. For a solo or as an accompaniment to the violin, its interpretations assume great beauty. It plays a piece as the composer wished it to be played, with the additional charm given it by the great pianists who have transferred their art to the DUO-ART.

DUO-ART Pianos range in prices from $895 to $4200. Monthly or quarterly payments may be arranged. Your old instrument will be taken in exchange.

GOOD ROAD FUNDS, SOON AVAILABLE, ARE MENACE, TOO

Thieves in Autos May Reap Rural Harvest.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—More than $550,000,000 will be available Jan. 1 for highway construction in less than a dozen and a half states. If prices go down, work will start. It is difficult to estimate how much this expenditure will add to the economic values of the nation. That is one view.

Another, the roads will be of aid to the crooks who desire wider, more virgin, and less dangerous fields. A mediocre thief with a fast auto on a good road can rob homes, stores, and banks in the country, villages, and small towns with little hazard in most states. His opportunities will broaden as the roads are constructed, his chances of capture will be decreased, and his prospective victims will become more numerous.

Election Helped Good Roads.

The election Nov. 2 helped the road building program. Seven states approved of highway bonds totaling $271,600,000. Those states are as follows:

State	Amount
Minnesota	$75,000,000
Missouri	60,000,000
West Virginia	50,000,000
Virginia	50,000,000
Colorado	5,000,000
Iowa	3,000,000

While this can be added to the action of the New Jersey electorate in approving of bonds for a vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river connecting Jersey City with New York. This cost has been estimated as high as $29,000,000.

At the same election Kansas voters approved of an enabling act which will permit road improvements. Also, Cal.

MISS ISABEL DODGE OF DETROIT TO WED GEORGE SLOAN OF N. Y.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Announcement of the engagement of Miss Isabel Dodge of Detroit to George Sloan of this city, which has just been made, has created great interest in local society circles, where Miss Dodge is well known.

MISS ISABEL DODGE.
International Photo.

Miss Dodge is the daughter of the late John F. Dodge, who amassed a fortune in the automobile industry, and she is reputed to be one of the greatest heiresses in the country.

California authorized an increase in the interest rate on highway bonds from 4½ to 6 per cent, that the bonds may find a larger and quicker market.

Approved in Other States.

Since 1918 a dozen other states have obtained popular approval of highway bond issues. These states are:

State	Amount
Illinois	$60,000,000
Michigan	50,000,000
Pennsylvania	50,000,000
California	40,000,000
Alabama	25,000,000
Oregon	25,000,000
Maine	10,000,000
South Dakota	4,500,000
Utah	4,000,000
Maryland	3,000,000
Wyoming	2,800,000
Nevada	1,000,000

Total $272,800,000. The federal government's contribution to good roads during this same period was $160,000,000.

Pending Elsewhere.

Still other states will join in the good road movement at once. Perhaps the states in which bond issues failed at the last election will give the electorate a chance to vote again this year. These states are: Washington, $30,000,000; Florida, $20,000,000; Montana, $15,000,000; and New Mexico, $2,000,000. That is a total of $67,000,000. There is agitation for highway bonds in still other states.

But the above is sufficient to show the increase in facilities for criminals to operate in the thinly populated districts. It also indicates the fast growing need for protection against crime in the country.

The most usual safeguard suggested is state police. Such a policy has been adopted in a number of states.

CURIOSITY is the beginning of all knowledge. Do you know any subject about which your child has not asked you a dozen questions? Let him ask as many as he likes, and be sure to answer them correctly. That is the parent's most important and most easily neglected duty. If you discourage your child's curiosity you will injure his mind, and the bright boy or girl becomes stupid or indifferent. Through Curiosity Columbus Discovered America. THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE is the simplest and most natural method of helping the child to educate himself. IT ANSWERS EVERY QUESTION A CHILD CAN ASK IN PLAIN AND SIMPLE LANGUAGE. So captivating is this great original work to the mind of a child that he absorbs with little effort the profound truths and great facts of the world of knowledge while reading its delightful pages and looking at the thousands of striking educational pictures.

YOUR CHILD IS UNIQUE

Your child is like no other child in the world. He has his own peculiar taste and need for both physical and mental food. If you put a meal before him and let him choose what agrees with him best, he will thrive. THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE is the right kind of nourishing food for the child's mind during the growing years. Give your child this remarkable original work, and watch carefully which of the 16 Great Departments interests him most, Nature, Science, History, Biography, Astronomy, Physiology, Art, Literature, Poetry and Manual Training. It will prove THE KEY to his natural bent, and the kind of work or profession in which he will most easily succeed.

YOUR CHILD'S CHANCE

In round numbers, what is your child's chance to become successful? If uneducated, he has one chance out of 150,000; with a common school education, 4 chances; with a high school education, 87 chances; with a college education, 800 chances; WITH THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE in the home, every chance. It is not a luxury, it is an absolute necessity. It is an INVESTMENT in your child's future which will pay dividends as long as he lives. In over 800,000 homes today the children are being educated with THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE. Give your child his chance to compete with them.

BOGUS COUPONS ON COUNTY, CITY BONDS CASHED

Reinberg Finds Plot; May Run Thousands.

Discovery of what is believed to be a plot to defraud the treasuries of the city and the county and the banks of Chicago through the presentation of counterfeit interest coupons on municipal and county securities was made yesterday by President Peter Reinberg of the board of county commissioners. Several hundred dollars' worth of counterfeit coupons have been found among the large number cashed by the banks, and it may be that the institutions have already been victimized for thousands of dollars. A warning has been sent to all the banks in the city and county to be on the lookout for spurious coupons. Detectives are working on the case.

Forge Forest Preserve Coupons.
The counterfeit coupons which have so far come to light are nearly all on the recent bond issue for the forest preserve, according to President Reinberg. The fake coupons are such good ones that the president believes either an expert counterfeiter is at work or some one in the offices of the bank note company which printed the original bonds has been reached.

Find Other Banks Victimized.
"The spurious certificates are so good that I am certain it is an inside job somewhere."

The discovery on the counterfeit certificates was made first in a batch cashed by the Foreman Brothers' Banking company. An investigation revealed that other banks had also been victimized.

MUNDAY PARDON HEARING DELAYED UNTIL NEXT WEEK

A plea for a pardon for Charles B. Munday was to have been heard today by the state board of pardons and paroles at Springfield, but last night a week's postponement was announced. Munday was vice president and operating head of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, which was founded by former United States Senator William Lorimer. The bank failed in 1915 and Munday, after numerous delays, was convicted of accepting deposits while knowing the bank to be insolvent. He was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. His case was carried to the highest court in the country and the sentence affirmed. He has been at liberty on a stay by the State Supreme court, which expired yesterday.

THREE GIRLS GONE, POLICE ENLISTED TO AID IN SEARCH

Three missing girls are being sought by the police. Miss Lois Ross, 19, step-daughter of William Eckholm, 5429 Hyde Park boulevard, disappeared Sunday evening after her mother had reprimanded her for keeping company with Albert Bosworth of the South Side Y. M. C. A. Bosworth denied knowledge of the girl's whereabouts. She was employed by the International Harvester company.

"Padded Brick" Band Robs Fur Store In the Loop

Three men in an auto drove up in front of the A. Bishop & Co. fur store, 12 West Washington street, at 2 o'clock this morning, hurled a padded brick through the window and started to help themselves to some furs on display. They fled when a citizen passed and saw them at work.

FEARS POISON, REFUSES TO EAT WHILE IN JAIL

Fearing a police plot to poison him, George Vogel, slayer of Detective Sergeant James Honna, went on a forty-eight hour hunger strike at the detective bureau. Vogel refused to eat until he was booked on charges of robbery and released on bonds yesterday. After he has passed self-defense and was acquitted of the Honna slaying, Vogel went into hiding. He feared for his life. He was told the police sought revenge. Only recently he came out of seclusion and opened a saloon at Roosevelt road and Campbell avenue. Lieut. Schoemaker and his squad swooped down on the place after two holdup suspects had been trailed there. Walter Cahill, driver of an American Railway express truck, identified Vogel as one of the holdup men who robbed him of $15,000 in merchandise.

EXTEND GERMANY CREDIT FOR OWN GOOD, PLEA TO U.S.

Danish Trade Expert Tells of Needs.

E. Yding of Copenhagen, head of the Trans-Atlantic, Limited, a $40,000,000 exporting and importing corporation, with half a hundred branches throughout the world, was at the Blackstone yesterday on his first visit to Chicago.

Recently he has been in Russia and Germany and he discussed conditions here.

He said Germany's great need is raw materials, and there is an urgent need for the United States to take some measures to extend credit to Germany.

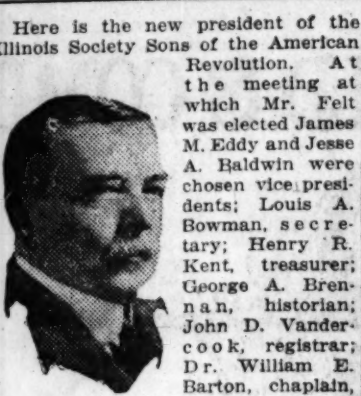

Mr. Yding stated that the jealousies between France and England are such as to make it Uncle Sam's duty to take the lead in this financial rehabilitation of Germany, our own welfare being bound up in the international credit and exchange situation.

He hid nothing to say about the Wilson league of nations, but declared time international cooperation appears to be needed.

Mr. Yding also urged a recognition of the Soviet government of Russia. He said the present policy of the allies in keeping the Russian frontier closed actually keeping the bolsheviks in power. They would, he believes, fail of their own weight once trading with the world was resumed. He saw many of men in the bolshevik armies who were there because otherwise they would starve. With open frontiers and free trading with this country and other allies this situation would readily change.

Mr. Yding said failure to give credit to Germany is a continuous loss of the blockade of Russia would mean simply that Germany and Russia would be drawn into an alliance (with Russia) crushing the raw materials that would prove fruitful of trouble to this nation and the rest of the world.

SEEKS REMEDY FOR BANK STRAIN IN NORTH DAKOTA

Bismarck, N. D., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—The acute financial situation resulting in the closing of twenty-two state banks and one national bank will be considered at a conference of state bankers here tomorrow at the call of O. E. Loftus, state bank examiner.

Mr. Loftus said tonight he had no plan to offer, hoping only that the bankers themselves may be able to work out a scheme. The twenty-first and twenty-second state banks closed today. They are the Citizens' State at Edgley, N. D., and the Nortonville State at Nortonville.

The First National bank at Medina is the first national bank in the state that was closed, according to a statement by its cashier. It closed today. The federal reserve system extended loans to the bank, but heavy withdrawals by outside depositors compelled the decision today to close the institution. It was capitalized at $25,000 and had deposits of $170,000.

"In my opinion the financial situation will not be relieved until the farmers begin to sell grain," Mr. Loftus said. "Only when the farmers begin to liquidate his debts will the banks be able to meet their obligations. The constant drain on the banks, created by the refusal of the farmers to sell, is depleting their reserves, necessitating the closing of the banks."

Last week more than 10,000 North Dakota farmers were pledged to hold their wheat for $2.50 a bushel. The pledge was made through the organization of a state branch of the National Wheat Growers' association.

Mr. Loftus has confidence that many of the closed banks will be reopened, stating that their assets are good and that they will be realized on as soon as the farmers begin to sell grain.

A razor and stropping device combined in one

A "new" sharp edge every day.

No "pull," no "scrape" with this unique razor

DOES your safety razor blade grow duller and duller with each shave until you cannot stand it any longer? Do you have endless bother and expense with new blades? If so, you are paying the penalty of shaving with an unstropped edge.

You don't need to put up with the "pull" and "scrape" of fast dulling blades—nor with the bother and expense of using a new blade every few days if you use the AutoStrop Razor.

Because of its unique, patented design, the AutoStrop Razor can be stropped without removing the blade. Just slip the stop through the razor head. Give the razor a dozen quick passes over the stop. In ten seconds you have a "new" sharp shaving edge! 500 cool shaves are guaranteed from each dozen blades.

Get an AutoStrop Razor today and know the joy of a "new" sharp edge every morning! Ask your dealer about the trial plan.

AutoStrop Razor —sharpens itself

LANDLORDS FEAR TUBERCULOSIS IN 70 DEGREE HEAT

Fight State Law to Make Flats Warm.

A provision in the proposed state housing law making a landlord's failure to supply heat and hot water to a tenant punishable by a $200 fine or a year's imprisonment, or both, caused a warm argument before the state housing and building commission yesterday.

"The provision requiring landlords to supply heat is grossly unreasonable," L. T. Orr, representing the Chicago real estate board, told the commission.

"I see nothing unreasonable about making a man live up to his contract," replied Senator Harold C. Kessinger, the chairman. "The section merely reads that where a tenant has contracted for heat and hot water the landlord must furnish it."

"When a landlord has furnished fuel, a heating apparatus, and a janitor he has done his part, and should be relieved of all further responsibility," Mr. Orr said.

"The proposed city ordinance requiring the maintenance of 70 degrees of heat would increase Chicago's consumption from 25 to 40 per cent."

One Plan Goes Astray.

"We thought of leaving the steam heat clause out of our leases if the ordinance is passed," he continued. "But we are advised that the mere presence of a heating apparatus in the building makes it liable by implication for the supply of heat. So that will not get us out."

"Out of what?" asked the chairman.

"Out of supply heat."

"Don't you want to supply heat?"

"Yes, under reasonable conditions."

Sets Sanitation Standards.

The proposed act is applicable to all cities of more than 5,000 inhabitants and purports to set minimum standards of sanitation, construction, and ventilation.

Under the bill eighty square feet will be the minimum floor area of any room used for dwelling purposes in a new building and at least one room in such a dwelling must have a floor area of 120 square feet. Ceilings must be at least 8 feet 6 inches high, and windows must be equal in area to one-tenth of the floor area.

Senator Kessinger set Dec. 17 as the date on which high rents and the shortage of houses will be discussed.

AID OF HARRIGAN, MASTER THIEF, IN POLICE TRAP

May Bare Secrets of Robber's Identity.

A man who has made admissions enough to convince the police he was a member of the "duke burglar" gang headed by James J. Harrigan, the master criminal who was shot to death last April in a battle with the Town Hall police, is being held incommunicado at the detective bureau.

The man gives the name of Gilbert Martin, 6006 North Clark street, but the police records reveal him as a criminal of many aliases with a national list of burglaries and other crimes.

Through the arrest of his wife, a guest at a north side hotel, and the seizure of a trunk found in his room the police learned of his former connection with the Harrigan gang.

May Solve Mystery.

It is believed Martin is the one man able to disclose the real identity of the mysterious Harrigan and the names of other members of the Harrigan gang—an enigma the police have been striving to solve ever since the blonde burglar "king" fell with more than twenty bullet wounds in his body.

Harrigan's death led to the discovery of his "fort" at 2314 North Clark street, declared to be the most elaborately constructed and equipped headquarters ever uncovered in Chicago. It took detectives many days to sort out the $100,000 worth of treasure recovered there and victims passed for days before the piles of loot, including jewelry, silverware, fur coats, objects of art and clothing which had been stolen from them.

Taken in Crime Raid.

Martin, as he chooses to call himself, was one of four suspects picked up by the raiding squads last Saturday night. The men were riding in an automobile at Harrison street and Racine avenue when Detective Sergeants Shea, Killeen, Rieolo and Bernacchi took them into custody. Two others in the car were Danny Vallo, who once figured in a thrilling escape from the Criminal Court building, and Patrick J. Dwyer, picked up many times before and at one time suspected of complicity in the Charles Stillwell murder.

The police did not pay much attention to Martin until yesterday, when he was taken to the bureau of identification. There it was found he was the notorious Martin L. Loonan, who swept down the Hudson river in the fall of 1908, committing more than twenty daylight burglaries in the homes of wealthy residents of Albany, Troy, Cohoes, Hudson, and Elmira. He went to Sing Sing for those robberies and later served time in Ohio under the aliases of Charley Mackey and Raymond.

He admits he is wanted now by the New York police on a charge preferred by Mina Loehr on July 21, 1920.

Martin does not know yet that his wife is in custody or that the police have searched his trunk.

RULING BY COURT PUTS BASEBALL BACK ON ITS FEET

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—The District Court of Appeals today reversed the recent judgment for $264,000 granted by the District Supreme Court against the major league clubs and in favor of the Baltimore Federal league club, which claimed a violation of the anti-trust laws by the use of the "reserve clause" in the players' contracts.

The Appellate court held that playing baseball did not constitute interstate commerce as defined by United States Supreme court decisions, and that the anti-trust law did not apply. The "reserve clause" imposed restrictions, the court held, which related directly to the operation of the personnel of the clubs and did not affect the movement of interstate commerce. Any ill effect was merely accidental, the court found.

MAJORS' SYSTEM SUSTAINED

President Johnson of the American league, discussing the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Baltimore Federal league club case, said: "I am delighted with the verdict, of course, but our attorneys had told us all along that we had a clear case, so we expected it."

No more sweeping victory ever was won in the courts by organized baseball, and it will prove a great benefit to the sport. It clears the decks for a reorganization along the existing lines that will put the game on a strong foundation for the future.

The decision upholding the reserve clause is of great value because of the stability it lends to the large investments that have been made in baseball. It is one of the bulwarks of the sport.

PHILLY MOGULS APPLAUD

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 6.—[Special.] Connie Mack, manager and half owner of the Athletics, and William F. Baker, president of the Phillies, were greatly pleased today when they heard of the court decision dismissing the Baltimore Federal suit against organized baseball.

"Fine news," Connie said, "the best I've heard in years. I expected the decision, because I always knew the foundation of organized baseball was clear, legal, and entirely aboveboard. Had the court ruled otherwise, we were ready to change our laws governing baseball, but I take it the court upholds our contention."

Herrmann Favors Decision.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 6.—[Special.] "Garry" Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Reds baseball club and former head of the national baseball commission, today said regarding the baseball decision in the United States appellate court:

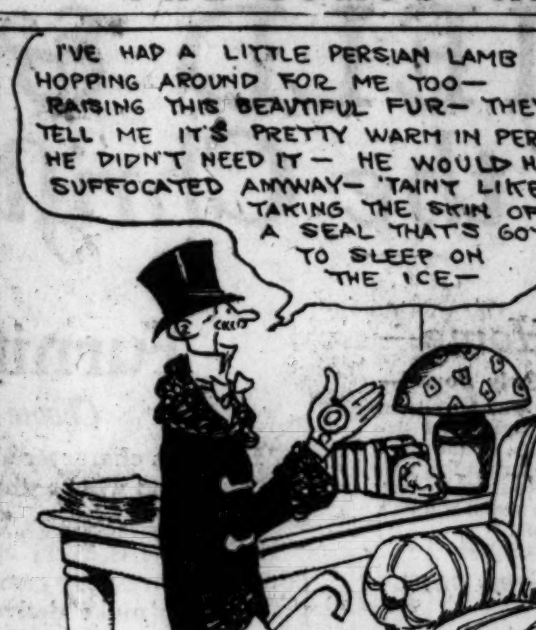

"That's fine. It will be to the best interests of baseball. It will strengthen the hands of those who are trying to keep the sport actually the national game. It also will help Judge Landis in his plans to free baseball of any undesirable features that may still remain. For the reserve contract now, it appears, has stood the test and gives baseball contracts the same authority as other contracts."

ALEXANDER SIGNS UP WITH CUBS FOR 1921; 3 EYES MEETS HERE

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Grover Cleveland Alexander sent his signed contract for the season of 1921 to the Cubs' offices yesterday with a note stating his intention to beat the youngsters to the training trip by leaving for California in advance of the main bunch so as to be "ready" for the old gang when it rings, he said.

Alexander can be counted on to be the main dependence of the north side club next season, just as he has been since his acquisition from the Phillies. He is still in his prime, and depends quite as much on his noddle as he does on his arm to win games.

Cedar Rapids Wants to Quit.

No change will be made in the circuit of the Three Eyes league as a result of their annual meeting here at the Great Northern hotel.

Cedar Rapids contemplated withdrawing, according to current reports, on account of the long railroad jumps it was compelled to make this year. Promises of abatement of the nuisance was promised the Cedar Rapids backers.

The season was one of the most harmonious in the Three Eyes league's history because the season's records show a marked increase in total attendance for the year.

The figures which were furnished by President Tzanney showed that the league drew over $53,165 during the year and as a result there is $7,800 in the treasury for future reference.

Evers Banquet Tonight.

The first function of the "Johnny Comes Marching Home Club" will be staged tonight at the La Salle hotel in the form of a banquet in honor of the return of John J. Evers to the management of the Cubs. The feed is slated to start at 7 o'clock sharp.

Two dates booked for the White Sox on their spring training trip were announced yesterday. They are for March 26 and 27 at Wichita Falls, Tex.

San Antonio to Improve Quarters for N. Y. Giants

New York, Dec. 6.—The New York Nationals will train again at San Antonio, Tex., next spring. An agreement was reached with officials there to provide improved and enlarged quarters.

HARVARD NINE TRAINING TRIP.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 6.—Harvard university's baseball team will go to Atlanta, Ga., for spring training. It was announced tonight. The start will be made April 16 and on the return trip a game is scheduled with Columbia at New York April 23.

CHAMPION BRITTON'S CLEVER MITTS EARN VERDICT OVER PINKIE

BY RAY PEARSON.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Jack Britton, world's welterweight champion, worked the "master mind" business once more tonight, and, boxing smartly for ten rounds, earned the verdict over Pinkie Mitchell of Milwaukee.

It was a bout devoid of thrills. Both were going strong at the final bell.

There were times in the latter rounds when it looked "as if Mitchell, who of his class, got up in time to get knocked down again with a left, when the referee stepped in and called a halt. Johnson protested hotly against the stoppage. Johnson weighed 162, Grace 158.

Crowd Appreciates Cleverness.

But Britton, who most of the way seemed content to travel along easily, opened up when necessary and, aided by his famed defense, stopped the progress of Pinkie, who deserved a lot of credit for his offensive efforts. It was a clever boxing match and the crowd, which filled the auditorium, seemed satisfied.

There were few hard punches landed, both a couple of times slipping over right hands to the jaw. But the wallop served only to speed up the work.

Britton depended on left hooking to garner points, while Pinkie jabbed with the left and crossed with his right to the body. Mitchell carried at least two of the rounds, the sixth and seventh; four were even; the other four to Britton.

A New Yorker, Freddie Jacks, stepped ten rounds with Battling Chech of Sheboygan and jabbed his way to a shade in the semi-windup. It was a battle, but Jacks was the smarter mill.

McGoorty and Chip Even on Patches at La Salle

La Salle, Ill., Dec. 6.—George Chip, Newcastle, Pa., and Eddie McGoorty, Oakbrook, Wis., fought a ten-round draw tonight, the referee giving the decision.

In a preliminary, Tom Carney of Spring Valley, Ill., knocked out George Toler of El Paso, Tex., in the first round.

Young Montreal Outboxes Joe Burman by a Shade

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—In a fast bout that went the ten round limit before the Wolverine A. C. tonight, Joe Burman of Chicago was shaded by Young Montreal of Providence. The decision was a hair line one, Montreal showing but slight superiority as a boxer.

Tribune Decisions

Decisions of Tribune fight representatives are:

At Milwaukee—Jack Britton beat Pinkie Mitchell [10]; Freddie Jacks beat Battling Chech [10]; Sammy Graydon beat Billy Herman [5]; Frank Grace knocked out Bill Johnson [1].

At Detroit—Young Montreal beat Joe Burman [10].

At Philadelphia—Mike O'Dowd beat Len Hawas [10]; Joe Jackson beat Johnny Sumner [10].

At Toledo—Tommy Gibbons beat Chuck Wiggins [10].

At La Salle—Eddie McGoorty drew with George Chip [10]; Tom Carney knocked out George Toler [1].

At Boston—Andy Chaney stopped William Green [6].

er and capitalized on it. Jacks weighed 158, Chech 177½.

A couple of Milwaukee bantams hopped four rounds to open the card, with Sammy Graydon shading Billy Herman. It was Graydon's first professional scrap and he looked good.

The second bout was brief and to the point as far as the punching was concerned. Frank Grace of Milwaukee poked a left hook to Bill Johnson's chin in the first round and upset him.

Then Johnson, who hails from Racine, got up in time to get knocked down again with a left, when the referee stepped in and called a halt. Johnson protested hotly against the stoppage. Johnson weighed 162, Grace 158.

Four of the rounds were even, but sport writers at the ringside could not agree upon a single round where Chuck Wiggins in eight rounds of the twelve round bout here tonight, but lacked the steam to put him away.

"FITZ" TO HEAD SKATERS' BODY FOR NINTH YEAR

With more clubs represented than ever before in the history of the organization, Julian T. Fitzgerald, one of the pioneer ice skating promoters in the middle west, last night was elected president of the Western Skating Association at the annual meeting at Hotel Sherman.

It is the fifth year that Fitzgerald has been elected to the office, and although he has many enemies in the ice game, his selection assures another successful racing season on the steel blades.

In addition to being president of the association, Fitzgerald is chairman of Mayor Thompson's ice commission, which has made arrangements to flood 500 lots so that school children will have opportunities to skate without going far away to the big parks; president of the Western Skating Association, who won the Tribune senior silver skates derby last year, was elected first vice president, and Clayton Everett of the Alverno A. A., second vice president. Henry A. Olson of the St. Paul A. C. was elected secretary and treasurer.

The five delegates at large chosen to serve on the board of control along with two representatives from each club were E. A. Mahike, James Galtman, Paul Stamm, Dr. H. H. Hyer, and Henry Erland.

CHICAGO BEGINS WALKOUT FROM CON CON PARLEY

Hamill and Wilson Quit
Chairmanships.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Chicago delegates started to repudiate the constitutional convention today because of the stranglehold limitation decided upon last week for Cook county representation in the state legislature.

Charles H. Hamill quit as chairman of the committee of style and phraseology. Walter H. Wilson resigned from the chairmanship of the committee on expense.

David Shanahan said some time ago that the gagging of Chicago's representation in the general assembly made his usefulness small, and it is rumored he will resign as chairman of the legislative committee.

Only six Chicago representatives appeared today and the session started with only twenty-eight members present, twenty-two less than a quorum.

No Quorum—Adjourn.
The afternoon was devoted to discussion of forestry. Delegate Hamill stopped it at dinner time with a demand for a quorum. The night session was declared off.

Mr. Hamill in his resignation tells the story of Chicago's plight. The limitation plan, he said, departs from all standards of sound democratic of republican government, as is shown by the fact that the representatives of 2,214,400 people will be able to control the lower house of the legislature against the representatives of 4,271,859 people.

Scores Discrimination.
It "invites political disaster," with "the most dangerous possibilities," Mr. Hamill continued. "The whole plan of limiting Cook county is futile and silly, unless there is a real temperamental difference between the two parts of the state, and if that is so it is worse than futile and silly—it is wicked. The pages of history have been vainly written in blood if they have not taught minorities they cannot long control unwilling majorities." Mr. Hamill charged that an analysis of the vote by which this measure was approved shows that it would have failed "but for the six votes which would have been negative if the downstate members of the general assembly had not repudiated their sworn obligation to redistrict the state."

The Store of the Christmas Spirit

Does Your Home Receive a Christmas Gift?

MANY HOMES have adopted the custom of a Christmas gift to be given by the members, to the home. In some cases a Phonograph, in others, a fine Painting, or a Washing Machine, a Sofa, a beautiful Rug, or a new Dinner Set might be the gift. A "house gift" of this character is an expression of good-will and at the same time a practical benefit to each member of the family as well as to the home as a whole. Choice of a gift for your home can be facilitated by asking the assistance of the new Service in Decoration, located in the Furniture Section, or of the Girl in the Cap and Apron in the Household Utilities.

Crewel Embroideries Inspired by the Hatton Garden Panels

Now Being Exhibited in the Interior Decoration Studios

A FEW years ago there was discovered, behind an accumulation of wall papers in an old house in Hatton Gardens, London, a series of Seventeenth Century crewel-embroidered panels.

From these panels the Embroideries now being shown were adapted, and the designs and their execution are most interesting. They are large panels, about seven feet by four, embroidered in colored wools; the designs are interesting foliage, birds, and beasts, grouped around columns intended to form a sort of colonnade effect when the panels are used in groups on a wall.

Inviting Attention to the Gift Practical

WHEN you are choosing a gift for a woman, remember that to most women pride in the home is almost equal to pride in their more personal possessions.

FEW SECONDS OF POLITENESS WIN $50 FOR GIRL, 10

Mother Taught Me, Says
Gertrude Snowhill.

GERTRUDE SNOWHILL.

Mrs. C. G. Snowhill will get a pretty nice Christmas present this year, according to her 10-year-old daughter, Gertrude.

"I had picked out one that I wished to buy for her, but it was beyond my reach," Gertrude informed the Tribune reporter yesterday. "Now I can get it easily."

And she gazed again at a card that informed her she had won the Tribune's daily prize of $50 for politeness.

All afternoon the reporter had wandered about the apartment house precincts of Lake View looking for someone to whom he could give the money. He had met some persons who were pleasant and some who weren't so much so.

The quest for courtesy. There was the woman who sells tickets at Wabash and Randolph streets, for instance. Hauteur had asked herself when he made inquiries about certain trains.

"Pay here if you want to," she had finally ultimatumed, none too sweetly, and got off at Clark and Lake.

Three-quarters of an hour later the reporter found himself addressing the clerk at the Buena Vista hotel, 433 Kenmore avenue. He was asking for the room number of a certain hypothetical person.

"Well, will you please take a look at the register just to make sure?" he finally asked.

"I don't have to look," the clerk responded. "I know."

Two More Pass by $50. To Sunnyside avenue the politeness seeker then wandered. There, walking east from Sheridan road, he met a handsome woman, dressed in furs. Her arms were full of bundles. The reporter raised his battered headpiece and spoke his nicest.

"I wonder if you would care to place an order for some Christmas wares?" he said.

"Uh, uh," replied she, meaning no she did not even bother to look at the questioner.

The next stop was in the vestibule of a fashionable apartment building at 535 Galt avenue. Here the reporter presented the second bell.

"Do you know of any rooms to rent, please?" he asked.

"No, I haven't," said a feminine voice.

"But do you know of any?" "No, I don't."

The second reply was snapped. Had she been talking over a telephone receiver undoubtedly would have been banged into its hook.

Pair Nearly Land Prize. The young woman whom the reporter next accosted at Sheridan road and Windsor was so pleasant she nearly got the $50. She should get honorable mention, anyway—she and the middle-aged woman at 4521 North Racine avenue. The latter had come downstairs in answer to the bell.

"O, I thought it was the postman," she said, smiling.

TOO MUCH FUN AT COHAN'S GRAND

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

R. COLLIER'S laughable miseries have endured for generations, and have included nearly all the vicissitudes known to farce. His comic trials and calamities belong in the inventory of beneficence, and we are happiest when his woes are most dire.

Like the aromatic plant which, when trodden, transmits the balmy smells around, he is best when most afflicted, and his adventures make a gay spectacle of gladness for his fellow men.

In "The Hot Tent Lot," which is troubled, as usual, we are transplanted to his own. Claimed as a mighty stealer, he is in fact a confirmed pedestrian, and a horse's neck pierces his affrighted ear like a shriek of terror. He loathes the arena of hazards and not a saddle the arena of hazards and not a stirrup is to him a badge of peril, and a saddle the arena of hazards and not a stirrup is to him a badge of peril.

Yet the brooding fate of his comic drama assigns him to the daring postures of a gentleman jockey. His name, Sam Harrington, being identical with that of a superman of the high jumps, he is confused with that celebrity and he is forced by sentimental and romantic considerations, to join the heroes. The locale of his ensuing adventures is a fashionable hunting community near New York, a member of which is a fair lady named Peggy Fairfax, who loves her hunters as she loves her God.

You will know with what merry distresses Mr. Collier wears his uncomfortable halo. He enters the "fashionable hunting community" near New York, all bruised, disheveled, and asked from having ridden the vicious Hot Tent from one swell country seat to another, equally swell. The moment he refers to this man-killing beast as "the Hopalong," you are assured that Mr. Collier is in his best vein, as is proved by subsequent similar observations.

The ordinary comedian is content with ambition for "a laugh in his line." Mr. Collier, however, soars beyond this commonplace aspiration and strives and gets a laugh in every syllable. That statement may seem excessive, but I feel sure that I share the sentiments of Mr. Collier's audience last night when I say that there was far too much fun in the entertainment. We smiled even when he essayed some solemn love-making, addressed to the opalescent heroine.

We were, honestly, wise and merry. Mr. Collier made us laugh when he talked and when he was silent. The facial jokes of his rich pantomime were as funny as the audible wit and humor of his dialogue. Every word and every situation were fertilized with the prudent phosphates of preparation, and none of them failed to bloom, thanks to the authors, Mr. Collier himself and Mr. Victor Mapes.

Try as he did to avoid riding his lady horse in the Great Race, he could not do so. He had the animal hidden in the remote winter mews of the stylish estate; he bought the Hot Tent at a large figure to keep him out of the contest; he employed all the tricks and contrivances to escape. Accompanying his endeavors were the sinister sounds of blasting as workmen strove to widen the already yawning leap in order to win the prize. Love eventually triumphed over cowardice, and the last scenes showed the fashionable community, congregated in a motor, overlooking the race and shouting to each other the progress of the conflict.

A superior company is accomplice to Mr. Collier in the unfolding of the winning fable, and hurried praise may be given to Mr. Donald Meek as a funny butt; Mr. Calvin Thomas as Mr. Collier's rival for the horse-lady's hand; Miss Elizabeth Moffat as a bridge widow; and Mr. Edwin Taylor as a photographer.

Woman Found Shot, Three Men Are Held by Police

Lieut. William O'Brien and his squad found Mrs. Vernel Olin, 28 years old and comely, in bed suffering from a gunshot wound at her home of her sister, Mrs. Amelia Condit, 25 West Erie street, last night. They sent her to the Passavant hospital and arrested Lieut. Marcus Condit, husband of Amelia; Joe Columbus, and John Posselt, who bore marks of combat. Neither the Olin woman nor the men would explain the shooting.

Missing Daughter of Police Lieutenant Found in Elgin

Helen Fleming, the 17-year-old daughter of Lieut. James Fleming of the Maxwell street police station, for whom the police searched for several weeks, was found at Elgin yesterday. She had obtained employment as a "welfare worker" for the Elgin Watch company.

'DIE IN LAKE AT MIDNIGHT,' SON OF RICH MAN PHONES

Alvin Fish Tells Tribune of Blighted Love.

Alvin L. Fish, son of S. T. Fish, one of the wealthiest wholesale commission brokers of West South Water street, telephoned THE TRIBUNE at 10:30 o'clock last night he would commit suicide before midnight, because the woman he married last Oct. 15 no longer loved him.

"I'm in the loop now," he said. "Never mind where. As soon as I conclude this conversation I shall take a taxi for Fifty-first street and the lake, leave my overcoat and hat on the beach so you will know I am keeping my pledge, and leap in."

"Please don't argue with me. I am sober and sane. I have been deliberating for weeks. You will say I am taking the weakest way. I know that. But the weakest way is my choice. I am telephoning you this exclusive information for your reporters were kind to me."

His Broken Romance. While he was talking a switchboard operator was endeavoring to trace the call. His reference to reporters' kindness concerned a visit he made to THE TRIBUNE office Saturday. He then told of a romance with Miss Mildred G. Robins of 4845 North Rockwell street, which culminated in a wedding at Crown Point following a taxi ride by moonlight. She obtained a divorce on Nov. 25.

"I gave my consent and did not contest," he said then. "I would have done anything she asked. She pleaded that we had been too hasty; that she refused her freedom to think it over. I thought I could win her back. But her mother and brother interfered. They will not let me see her."

He was dissuaded Saturday from his announced intention to commit suicide and nothing more was heard from him until the telephone call last night.

"Decision Is Irrevocable." "Do you think you are playing square with yourself and your mother and father to end your life merely because a woman happens not to care for you?" he was asked.

"I have thought of that, too. But my decision is irrevocable. I consider myself the arbiter of my own destiny." "But you owe something to society, don't you?" The switchboard operator had reported trouble in locating the call.

"Listen. Right or wrong, you will find my body in the lake at Fifty-first street by midnight." "How old are you?" "Thirty-five."

"You are just at the threshold of life. Why don't you—?" "Good-bye."

The receiver at the other end clicked. The operator had not traced the call.

Father Doubts Suicide. Mr. Fish's home at 4508 Drexel boulevard was reached. His father professed to know nothing of the marriage. He also said he believed his son would not commit suicide.

No answer to the telephone at the Robins' home.

BOY, PLAYING IN THE STREET, KILLED BY AUTO

Automobile Killings, 554 in Chicago in 1920.

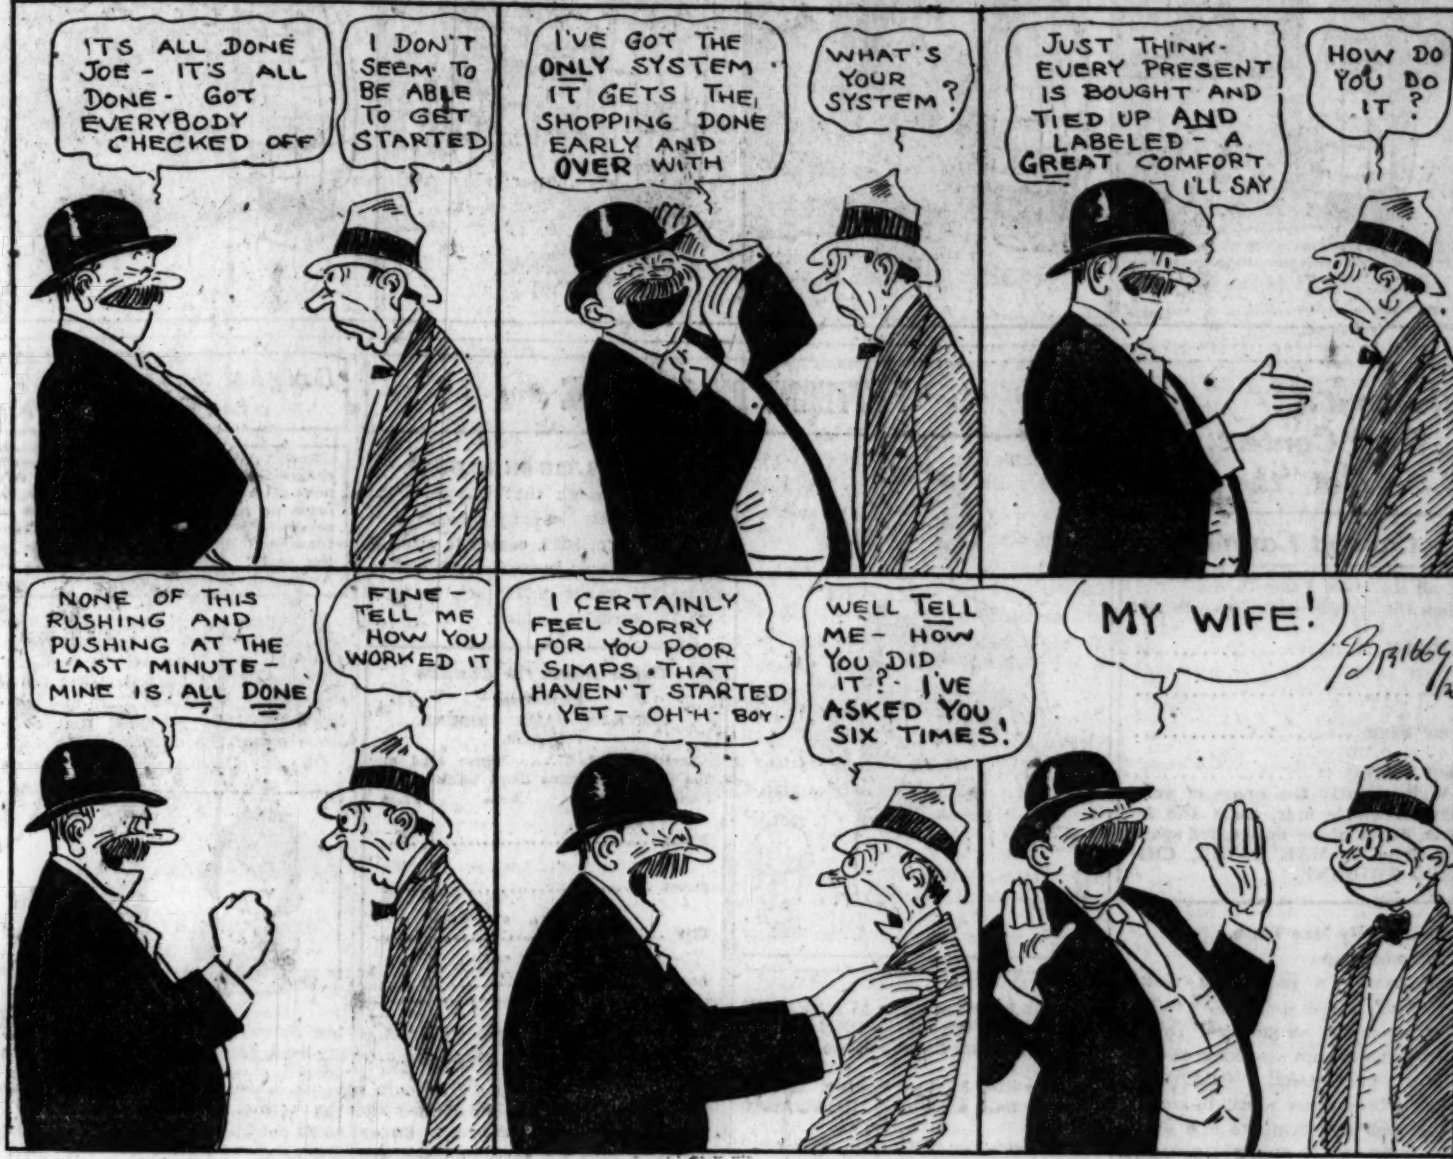

Edwin Kleser, 13 years old, 3317 Crystal street, was run over and killed while playing at North Kedzie and West Pershing avenues last night by an automobile driven by Edwin L. Henderson, 647 Buena avenue. Henderson was rushed to the hospital, where he died yesterday.

The police of the Summerdale station are making a search for the motorist whose car struck and fatally injured Wilber Line, 12 years old, 4708 North Robey street, Sunday. The boy died yesterday at the Lake View hospital. His bicycle was wrecked and he was thrown to the pavement at Sheridan road and Foster avenue. The driver of the automobile, which was north bound, did not stop.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris won a personal battle against crookdom yesterday, when Judge J. B. David in the Superior court held Frank Raven, an alleged pickpocket, to the grand jury under $2,000 bonds. Three hours later the grand jury indicted Raven on a charge of larceny.

Judge David had announced his intention of discharging Raven on a habeas corpus writ Saturday morning, when Chief Fitzmorris hurried to the courtroom and insisted that the police be given a chance to "get the goods on Raven."

YOU'LL HAVE TO HAND IT TO THE WIFE

SORORITY GIRL AT DEPAUW SHOT; OUT FOR STROLL

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Miss Hilda Varney, a student at De Pauw university here, member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and daughter of a prominent Boston family, is near death as the result of a bullet wound received Saturday night.

W. P. Sackett, a wealthy grocer of Greencastle, is alleged to have fired the shot. Mr. Sackett told President George R. Grose of the university he had fired a revolver in the driveway leading to his garage to scare off prowlers at the time Miss Varney was shot.

The shooting has created a sensation in this quiet college town—various versions of it—some hinting at a jealous suitor's revenge—have been afloat.

Couple Out for a Stroll. President Grose said that Miss Varney, accompanied by Mark Bills, Lambda Chi fraternity man and captain of the university basketball team, had strolled to the "Old Stone Wall," a lovers' rendezvous famed in the traditions of the university. They were sitting on the wall, which is in the rear of the driveway of Mr. Sackett's garage, when a shot was fired in the driveway. A second later Miss Varney fell with a bullet in her side.

Bills carried her to the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house, notified the university authorities, and summoned a physician. President Grose summoned medical aid from Chicago and notified the girl's parents to hasten to Greencastle.

Accident Says President. "After the news of the shooting had gone abroad," President Grose said, "Mr. Sackett called me and explained that he fired his revolver to frighten prowlers. I feel certain the shooting was an accident."

Mr. Sackett has not been taken into custody.

"MARRYING PARSON," JAMES M. DARNELL, OUT OF COURTS NOW

For the first time in five years Cook county courts are free from records of legal action pending against the Rev. James Morrison Darnell, "marrying parson," whose four wives have kept him before the courts since 1915.

Judge John P. McGroarty cleared the docket yesterday when he dismissed a suit for separate maintenance filed against the former Kenosha pastor by Mrs. Ruth Soper Darnell.

Property rights and alimony demands had been settled in Minnesota courts. Mrs. Ruth Soper Darnell was the second of the parson's wives. She met him when he was preaching in Orono, Minn., and came to Chicago.

When she learned he had previously married Miss Ethel Spurgeon of Avon, Ill., she started legal action that ultimately landed the preacher in Leavenworth penitentiary under the Mann act.

Darnell was released in 1917, but a year later he was jailed at Rockford, Ill., on charges of abandoning a 5-year-old son. Then it developed that while preaching in Kenosha, Darnell had married Miss Doris Vaughn, a member of his congregation. She won a divorce.

Darnell's most recent matrimonial exploit was his elopement with Mildred Wood, an 18-year-old school girl of Elgin, Ill.

"KING OF ALIASES" NABBED AT BANK WITH BAD CHECK

The bank defrauding activities of John Parson, man of many aliases, were interrupted yesterday when men from the bureau and the Pinkerton National Detective agency arrested him while he was endeavoring to cash a bad check at the Northern Trust company bank.

Parson, whose latest alias was John C. Roberts, admitted defrauding several banks in the east. The Pinkertons have been after him for some time and when he gave a vacant lot as his address several days ago, and recorded a fictitious army captain as his reference, they were on his trail again. He claims Lynn, Mass., as his home.

A woman with whom he was living at the time of his arrest was also taken, but was released.

PRESIDENCY OF BOARD OF TRADE GOES A-BEGGING

The presidency of the Board of Trade is going begging.

Once the office was an honor at which any member would leap, but that was before the war, before the government laid down a thousand and one rules governing trading, when an hour's work a day was all the job called for. Now it is different. Nobody wishes the job.

Board members have tried for weeks to induce President Leslie F. Gates, to accept a third term, promising no opposition and the hearty support of the entire membership. He has been a member of the board fifteen years, during eight of which he has served as an official. This is a record attained by no other member. But—

Can't Afford to Take It. "I simply can't afford to take the office again," he said. "It is a hard job if the work is done properly—a job that takes every minute of a man's time. The outlook for the coming year is that there will be more work than usual."

Charles H. Sullivan, vice president for two years, was offered the job. He declined with thanks.

Edward Andrew, who retires as director next month after serving on the board twelve years, was another mentioned for the candidacy. He was vice president for two years and president in 1913. He also declined to run.

B. A. Eckhart, the miller, also was mentioned for the office.

"I have made all my plans for the winter and am sorry I cannot accept at this time," he told a TRIBUNE reporter.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question. In your opinion, are the police really reducing crime in Chicago?

Where Asked. Adams street, between Clark and Dearborn streets.

The Answers. Marie Loftus, 5621 Carpenter street, chief clerk—I know the police activity has caused a greater number of arrests. I don't know that crime has been lessened, but I believe the example set and the punishments administered by Judge Adams in the federal building will keep many from violating the law.

Samuel Getz, 1848 Avers avenue, salesman—I don't think the present drive has lessened crime to any great extent. In my estimation the big thing necessary in Chicago is a drive against grafting politicians. If the friends of criminals were all locked up Chicago would become the ideal city of the world.

Louise Rachelle, 2841 Michigan avenue—There is a marked decrease in crime since Chief Fitzmorris got on the job. Pretty soon it will be safe to wear our diamonds and patronize taxis without an escort. I believe we have the finest police force in the world right here in Chicago. All they needed was the right sort of leader.

Nicholas Stolfo, 744 Bunker street, clerk—Yes, I believe the raids are bringing results. Chicago is being made too hot for crooks, and I feel sure when they realize the police are serious they will be more afraid to operate than heretofore.

I think there should be a hanging sentence for those found guilty of attacks upon children.

Marion Siegel, 1132 South Whipple street, stenographer—As a result of the raids more arrests are being made and no doubt there is a decrease in crime. Perhaps at present this is not noticeable. If the police keep up the good work the name Chicago will be synonymous with purity.

Gives Them Monopoly.

"And that isn't all," said one contractor. "The restriction as it works out even applies to union made millwork made outside of Chicago. Section 3 is simply a dodge for the millmen to get a monopoly of the Chicago market, and they used the carpenters' union officials to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for them. They cannot produce half the goods Chicago uses, but it is a thimble to enable them to corner the market and shove up prices, while the public, as usual, gets it in the neck."

Skokie Valley May Be Added to Preserve Today

The final battle in the three year fight to decide whether the famous Skokie valley shall become part of the forest preserve or be divided for other purposes will be staged today. Decisive action will be taken at a public meeting at 1:30 o'clock in the county building rooms of the forest preserve commission.

Scores of Chicagoans are expected to be present to help Commissioner Robert W. McKinlay persuade the county board to start condemnation proceedings against the 2,000 acres in the Skokie tract.

U. S. EYES UNION PACT ON DOORS AND WINDOWS

Costs the Building Public $5,000,000 a Year.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

That poor Ishmaelite the rent payer is now promised a day in court. The operations of the "door and window" game, which "gypsies" the building public to the tune of $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 a year by forcing millwork from Oshkosh and other open shop towns out of the Chicago market, are to be scrutinized by a federal grand jury.

District Attorney Charles F. Clyne said last night that he will take the first witnesses before the grand jurors today. He has been making an investigation for several weeks that leads him to believe a "criminal conspiracy exists to violate the interstate commerce act."

Eyes Compact with Unions. The first move, Mr. Clyne indicated, will deal with the famous section 3 of the joint agreement between the Carpenter Contractors' association and the carpenters' executive council, effective June 1, 1918, to May 31, 1921, which closed the gate to millwork not made in unionized shops. It reads:

"There shall be no restrictions against the use of any manufactured material except nonunion and prison made." The signatories to the joint agreement were D. H. Doyle, A. C. Wehrwein, Frank J. Doherty, William J. Brown, and Frank M. Stresemann on behalf of the contractors and William Brims, William C. White, W. G. Schardt, Thomas F. Flynn, and D. J. Ryan on behalf of the carpenters' council. At the federal building the expectation is that these men will be called in to explain the genesis of section 3 and how it operates.

Has Helped to Stop Building. Much of the material collected by various agencies in preparation for their recent statements before the Calder housing committee of the United States senate, has been placed before Mr. Clyne. It was declared yesterday that the practice in connection with restrictions upon doors, windows, and cabinet work in Chicago appears to be quite as illegal as was that in the electrical workers' case.

Contractors in general take the ground that the freeze-out section slipped over on them by a combination of Chicago millmen, and some of the leaders of the organized carpenters, the rank and file of whom are reported to be against the restriction because it has helped to stop building and throw them out of jobs.

One inside story yesterday was that the ban upon millmen in 1918, when the agreement was up, consisted of an offer of a trade discount of 25 per cent and a cash discount of 5 per cent. After everything was signed up, the millmen kicked at the 25 per cent discount and after a row a compromise was struck and a trade discount of 15 per cent in addition to 5 per cent off for cash became the vogue.

Surprise for a Contractor. Many contractors seem unaware of this even now. A few days ago a leading builder called on it expressed his disbelief that such a discount scheme was in operation. He touched the buzzer and called in one of his supply experts, who appeared with a batch of papers.

"Sure," said the supply man. "Way, I just got a bid on some millwork. It says a discount of 15 and 5."

There it was in black and white. The lure of the trade discount, advanced by the mill men during the 1918 negotiations was that it would apply only to members of the contractors' association, thus giving them a possible edge on outside work.

Investigate "Guinea Stamp." The "guinea stamp" is another oddity into which Mr. Clyne is peering. Doors and millwork made in the Chicago union mills are stamped union made. But in a normal year the Chicago factories have turned out only about 40 per cent of the necessary supply. Builders estimate that fully 60 per cent came from Oshkosh and other outside mill towns. When business is brisk some of the outside stuff, of course, comes in, but a rubber stamp easily transforms it into "union made" goods, and this, in turn, shoots up the price.

To illustrate, a mill in Michigan turned down an order from a Chicago concern for doors. It wrote:

"We regret to say that we are unable to handle your order direct and would suggest that you inquire about covering these lists of doors to some of the principal Chicago mills, a number of whom carry our doors in stock and who will no doubt be in a position to quote you reasonable prices and prompt delivery. We return herewith the orders which you have sent us and regret that under our present selling agreement we cannot accept same."

Gives Them Monopoly. "And that isn't all," said one contractor. "The restriction as it works out even applies to union made millwork made outside of Chicago. Section 3 is simply a dodge for the millmen to get a monopoly of the Chicago market, and they used the carpenters' union officials to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for them. They cannot produce half the goods Chicago uses, but it is a thimble to enable them to corner the market and shove up prices, while the public, as usual, gets it in the neck."

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREAD-WINNER. The Tear Beneath the Smile.

MRS. JOSEPH HARRIS.

Mrs. Joseph Harris, 4788 Ingleside avenue, and Mrs. Edna B. Kaufman are co-chairmen of the fortune teller both of the Pageant of the East, to be given Dec. 10 for the Lying-in hospital at the Coleseum.

Under the direction of Mr. De La-marter they played the Tachikowsky Polonaise from "Eugene Onegin" with boundless spirit, impetuous eagerness, and delight in the doing that is the first symphonic essential in climactic and telling orchestral effect.

After the Tachikowsky number Mr. Stock led them through the Bohemian rhythmic labyrinth and the Negro sentimentalities of the Dvorak New World Symphony. Here the electrical discovered mellowness in the brasses, lovely variety of tonal tints in the woodwinds, and warmth in the strings. Incidentally this pleasant popular symphony was practiced in the hark which would have warranted a far less finished performance from many a professional orchestra.

During the intermission Mrs. James W. Morrison made a charming little talk in which she outlined briefly and concisely various plans for this organization and its one need—that of money.

The problem staring the association in the face during this unseasonable December weather is how to obtain the psychic monetary wherewithal to enable them to substitute more adequate and practical rehearsals, practice hours devoted to the present scrambled, hurried periods which must be given over to learning repertoire; to give individual instruction where it is needed, and, in short, to make the "City Music Students' orchestra a permanent factor in the building of Chicago's musical life.

The second concert of the series will be given Wednesday evening, Jan. 12. The season's first performance of the "Jewels of the Madonna" was given at the Auditorium opera last evening. The cast was the same admirable one previously employed.

Student Orchestra Fulfills Promise in Season's Debut

BY RUTH MILLER.

The embodiment of lively musical youth, seventy young musicians took their places with the pleasing ease that is born of unassuming self-confidence on the platform of Orchestra hall, last evening. There was that rare unspooled youngness that spoke in a direct, vigorous tone and spontaneous interpretation which in their windswift freedom lacked the conventional stuffy sentimentalities and sensuous subtleties of the customary orchestral idiom.

When the Civic Music Students' orchestra gave its first concert last year it swept everything before it. When it appeared last evening in the initial concert of its current season it proved that it had more than begun to fulfill the predictions made for it at that earlier hearing by rapturous reporters in moments of unguarded critical transport. For right at that tense and equivocal moment, the beginning of the program, this amazing band proved that it has gained in total solidity, precision of attack, rhythmic surety, orchestral sophistication, and poise.

Under the direction of Mr. De La-marter they played the Tachikowsky Polonaise from "Eugene Onegin" with boundless spirit, impetuous eagerness, and delight in the doing that is the first symphonic essential in climactic and telling orchestral effect.

OBITUARY.

Funeral Services Today for Alfred Cochran Bryan

Funeral services for Alfred Cochran Bryan, who died Sunday at his residence in Hinsdale of an acute heart attack, will be held at 2:30 o'clock today at the residence, Mr. Bryan was a son of the late Frederick A. Bryan, an early settler from England, and was the owner of the Bryan Block, which stood for many years on the site of the Northern Trust company bank. In September, 1911, the old Bryan block, the most modern office building then in Chicago, was completed and occupied, and the great fire of Oct. 9 and 10, 1917, completely destroyed it. F. A. Bryan immediately commenced its reconstruction.

The deceased was born July 22, 1852, in his parents' home in Monroe street, about the middle of Dearborn street, which then terminated at Monroe.

He was married to Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, who died in 1910.

Australian Prelate Visits Sick Cousin

The Rt. Rev. John McCarthy, D. D., bishop of Sandhurst, in the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Melbourne, Australia, is here today.

Bishop McCarthy is on his way home from a year's trip around the globe, following his decennial visit to the Holy See in Rome last Easter. The immediate occasion of his visit is the serious illness of his cousin, Michael H. McCarthy, a prominent lumberman and financier of Duquesne, Pa., who is at the Presbyterian hospital.

Bishop McCarthy is a native of Ireland, and was born in 1852. He is a member of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Melbourne, Australia.

EFFICIENT CROP HANDLING VITAL, FARMERS STATE

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—In the presentation of the disheartening economic condition confronting agriculture, at the second annual convention of the American Farm Bureau federation, which opened in the Masonic temple here today, producers are looking toward the field of business agriculture for relief.

Farmers are seeking a national policy, not an agricultural policy alone, that will articulate with the producer, making a square deal for all.

Keynote of Convention.

Cooperative marketing, transportation, finance, revenue and tariff are the big questions involved in the discussion of the 1,500 to 2,000 farmers and their wives, governors, agricultural experts, and farm bureau delegates, representing thirty-seven states, that are here in convention.

"Pile your furrow straight, avoid cutting and covering, and do the job within your own organization that will be fair to all concerned," was the address President J. R. Howard gave in his opening address.

"The producer constitutes one-third of the nation's man power. If the two thirds cannot properly transport, process and distribute what the one-third produces, the farmer is going to extend his efforts beyond the field of production.

Must Mend Methods.

"Unless our distributing agencies can be made more efficient a condition will be brought about which will automatically cause a decrease in production, because of the now too wide and constantly increasing margin between the producer and consumer."

Gov. J. P. Goodrich, Indiana, delivered the address of welcome.

Gov. W. L. Harding, Iowa, argued the advantages of a deep waterway from Chicago and other lake ports to the Atlantic.

Judge Orders New Inquiry Into "Coal Conspiracy"

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—Federal Judge A. B. Anderson today instructed a grand jury which convened to reopen the investigation of the coal conspiracy cases against 125 operators and miners in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and western Pennsylvania with a view of determining whether others should be made defendants in the cases.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

American Unity post will elect officers tonight at Colonial hall, 24 West Randolph street. Speakers and entertainment are on the program.

At the annual meeting of Gen. John Swift post, held at the Swift club, a program of aid for needy and disabled "buddies" was adopted. The officers for the coming year are: A. C. Spierling, commander; George J. Seward, vice commander; William N. Strack, adjutant; Edward A. Groth, vice adjutant; R. A. Frederick, finance officer; L. Cox, historian, and Arthur Odman, sergeant at arms.

At the December meeting of Butler Bros. post officers for the year were sworn in by State Adjutant William Q. Settle. Post Commander Arthur E. L. Westphal was presented with a loving cup.

Harold A. Taylor post has elected the following officers: E. B. Pierce, commander; W. E. Ernst, vice commander; J. R. Caidon, adjutant; M. S. Walsh, vice adjutant; C. S. Faubus, finance officer; S. G. Jepson, chaplain, and B. Toke, sergeant at arms. These officers will be installed at the next meeting on Dec. 17.

Advertising Men's post last night elected the following officers at its meeting at the City club: Commander, Douglas Taylor; vice commander, Forrest U. Webster; adjutant, Charles Dean; vice adjutant, Harold J. Smith; treasurer, Edwin G. Boose; vice treasurer, R. C. Becker; sergeant at arms, Henry J. Stephens.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL MONOPOLY MUST DISSOLVE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—The Lehigh Valley railroad case, the second and last of the great anthracite coal anti-trust cases, was won today by the government.

The Supreme court, in the unanimous opinion of the seven members participating, held that the existing combination of the railroad and its principal subsidiary companies was in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and, reversing the lower court, ordered entering of a decree dissolving the combination and redistributing its stocks, bonds, and properties so as to make each component part in fact independent and competitive.

Specifically named in the order of dissolution were the Lehigh Valley railroad company, the Lehigh Valley coal company, the Lehigh Valley coal sales company, Cose Bros. & Co. and the Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill railroad company.

CONGRESS TO AID NEEDY FARMERS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—The senate agriculture committee voted today to recommend the senate adopt a resolution to provide relief for the farmers from the distress caused by the present condition of the market for agricultural products.

The resolution provides for two measures:

First, specifically to direct the secretary of treasury to revise the war finance corporation, "with the view of assisting in the financing of the exportation of agricultural products to foreign markets."

Second, to instruct the federal reserve board to permit member banks of the federal reserve system to grant liberal extensions of credit to the farmers at low rediscount rates.

GOVERNOR DENIES MINERS' CHARGE

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Gov. John J. Cornwell assailed as "lying propaganda" today the charges by the international executive board of the United Mine Workers at Indianapolis that there was a private army of gunmen in the Mingo county strike zone.

"Since the tragedy at Matewan early in May," he said, "when a number of employees of the Felt Detective agency were assassinated, no employees of that or any other concern, so far as I know or have been able to find out, have been in the strike region."

Investigate Shooting.

Williamson, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Deputy sheriffs have been dispatched to Broadbent, W. Va., to investigate the killing of John B. Marcum last night.

A Sale of Tea Wagons

At Prices Which Bring Savings of Worth-While Nature

In cabinet construction and finish these tea wagons are in every way exceptional at these prices. They are fitted with large artillery wheels, rubber-tired, and ball-bearing swivel wheels. The choice of one of these tea wagons for a Christmas gift is certain to be most happy. Five are sketched.

No. 1—The Tea Wagon at $28.50

To be had in mahogany finish. Top measures 17 x 26 1/2 inches and is fitted with the convenient removable glass-lined tray.

No. 2 at $33.50—

Pivot tea wagon to be had in mahogany or walnut. Top measures 17 x 27 inches. All are fitted with removable glass-lined tray.

No. 3 at $37—

In the Queen Anne period, in either mahogany or walnut. Top measures 19 x 28 1/2 inches, fitted with removable glass-lined tray. Unusual in value at this price.

No. 4 at $39—

To be had in mahogany. Made with center shelf for extra service. Top measures 17 x 27 inches, fitted with removable glass-lined tray.

No. 5 at $50—

In mahogany. With disappearing handle. Top measures 17 1/2 x 27 1/2 inches, fitted with removable glass-lined tray. When side leaves are elevated, top measures 38 inches.

Sixth Floor, North.

Might Chec Autocracy,

BY ARTHUR SEA

Washington, D. C. (U.S. Press.)—Despite the obvious militarism and autocracy of the present administration, the survival of the republic is again in peril, according to a message to congress.

Without going into Wilson said that "the put to its final test" by the rejection of the treaty and a substitution of autocracy." The United States is by making an example of the nation can do the enactment and equal and just laws, rights of labor as well as property and right and justice" other nations.

Wants tax law A demand for revision of the income laws was made by the did not, however, speak at this time, though optimistically on the government toward a national debt. He urged, however, a question, however, be administration comes.

For Philippine In The president's grant full independence in accordance with a conditional upon the stable self-government, he asserted, had the last four years. This recommendation to the senate here, who bring the matter before the senate, there a serious consideration of the question, however, be administration comes.

Attitude of G. O. The position of leaders on this question by Representative Tamm of the insular affairs of manner: "The question regarding the Philippines is more complicated on the surface," he said, "than it is in reality. The Philippines are not what the people are demanding. The people want to turn the Philippines over to a guaranty of independence would be that it would be equivalent to this time. Until world conditions are such that I do not believe any taken by congress alone pine independence."

Armenia Los Angeles, Dec. 7.—The president's authorization of a loan was another reversible action upon the proposition to a date, already formal senate. The state department can be saved 900,000.

The president's call for more adequate habilitation of the president contented peating the recent various messages in most of which will mention of the H. On the one hand, it is likely that the question of immigration will be a veto of the "sen suspension bill."

U. S. Budget Mr. Wilson indicated the budget by the senate in the approved it after Senator Harding's attention is not unlikely will be passed at the
